Rep. Robert Dean, from the 75th District, offered the following invocation:

“O God, Who art ever striving, out of the chaos of human passion, to bring a world of ordered character; grant that we may live this day and all days with eyes wide open to all that is good, as well to behold that which is evil.

We would hear again, this noon-tide, the voice of The Son of Man inviting and pleading with ‘Come unto Me, all ye that are weary and heavy-laden, and I will give you rest.’ Speak Thou the word that will quiet these throbbing heads and hearts.

We are heartily sorry for our sins, for our national and our personal sins, for anything that has come between our God and ourselves, for anything that shuts away Thy presence from us. In a world so given over to materialism and to trusting in the arm of flesh we have maintained a form of godliness while denying it as the power of all power in human life. Forgive us, Father, and forgive our enemies. In Christ Jesus’ name we pray, Amen.”

Rep. Angerer moved that Reps. Clemente, McDowell and Lemmons be excused from today’s session.
The motion prevailed.

The House agreed to the title of the bill.

Rep. Angerer moved that the bill be given immediate effect.

The motion prevailed, 2/3 of the members serving voting therefor.

Rep. Haines, having reserved the right to explain her protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

I support binding arbitration for police and firefighters, but I believe this bill expands binding arbitration beyond what was originally intended.

I also have serious concerns that the unintended consequence of the bill will be that local governments will not be able to afford to provide services, and as a result people will lose their jobs and public protection will be undermined.

I supported an amendment that would have taken care of these concerns, but that amendment was defeated.

For these reasons, I cannot support this bill.”

By unanimous consent the House returned to the order of

Motions and Resolutions

Rep. Tlaib offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 308.

A resolution to urge the Department of Natural Resources and Environment and other applicable agencies to address the cumulative effects of industrial pollution within Southwest Detroit as a top priority in light of the area being identified as the most polluted locale in Michigan.

Whereas, A study conducted by University of Michigan environmental scientists has concluded that some of the most polluted neighborhoods in Michigan are found in Southwest Detroit. This community includes three of the state’s 15 most polluted zip codes, including 48210 and 48209. Indeed, according to the study, the 48217 zip code is the most polluted locale in the state of Michigan. This study is a confirmation of what area residents have long contended, and it reflects the gravity of conditions that threaten the health of the community; and

Whereas, A central finding of the University of Michigan researchers is that the high level of pollutants in the area is the result of the cumulative effects of decades of industrial activities, rather than the impact of a specific plant. The study acknowledged the significant reduction in pollution today, but identified the harm done because of the sum of gypsum, cement, steel, asphalt, oil refining, and other operations within this area of the city. While individual plants may be in compliance with set standards, this is little consolation to families living in Southwest Detroit; and

Whereas, Far beyond the well-known soot and metallic odors, the pollution in this area has had a profound health impact. This is evident in rates of various cancers, as well as heart and respiratory ailments. The seriousness of these threats is most pronounced in the hazards facing the community’s children; and

Whereas, While our serious budgetary challenges have made all health and environmental challenges far greater and more difficult in recent years, it is imperative that stronger steps be taken to protect the people of this community. Better monitoring, more equipment, more inclusive assessments of the area’s overall conditions when considering permits, and stronger communication with area residents are all examples of measures that are long overdue in the most polluted neighborhood in our entire state; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we urge the Department of Natural Resources and Environment and other applicable agencies to address the cumulative effects of industrial pollution within Southwest Detroit as a top priority in light of the area being identified as the most polluted locale in Michigan; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Department of Natural Resources and Environment.
The resolution was referred to the Committee on Great Lakes and Environment.
