Rev. Darcy Crain-Polly, Minister of First Congregational Church of Ann Arbor, offered the following invocation:

“Creating God we gather together from different areas of our state to represent the people who trust us to make their community a home and not just a zip code. We carry with us their stories and fears, their triumphs and tribulations. They have trusted us with them and we are honored to be serving in this way. Grant us the courage and perseverance to serve them and our country through the positions we each hold. Guide us in Your wisdom as we seek to enrich the lives of those in our communities and beyond.

Nurturing God, we carry with us our own stressors: there seem to be endless issues and to-do lists that need addressed in our jobs, but there are also life-changing events in our personal lives. We pray for our families; for our children who seek to change the world for the better, that they may see themselves in Your image and know their sacred worth. We pray for our family members who are at the end of their lives; that they may be able to pass along their legacy and age with integrity.

God of mercy, we read in Your scriptures what You require of us, that we love kindness, do justice, and walk humbly. Infuse us with humility as we seek to do justice in Your world. Open our eyes to see the issues before us. Help us care for those in need by not only providing the hungry with food, but by doing the difficult work of education and advocacy as well. Clothe us with compassion and courage as we address racism, sexism, classism and other barriers which threaten the sacred worth with which You created each one of us. May You remain in each person gathered here as we all seek together to be a beacon of hope. We pray in the many names to which You are known, Amen.”

Motions and Resolutions

Reps. Sarah Roberts, Bizon, Pagel, Muxlow, Dillon, Darany, Pagan, Wittenberg, Plawecki, Derek Miller, Yanez, Greig, Banks, Gay-Dagnogo, Byrd, Driskell, Townsend, Greimel, Moss, Durhal, Rutledge, Chang, Talabi, Guerra, Canfield, LaVoy, Schor and Singh offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 98.

A resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation that allows the refinancing of student loans.

Whereas, A college education is one of the most valuable investments a family can make, but it has never been more difficult for families to afford the dream of college as the cost has been growing exponentially. Average college tuition rates rose 1,120 percent between 1978 and 2013. The pursuit of higher education is the ticket to the middle class and the pathway to economic opportunity. American young people should not be priced out of the opportunity for a higher education, which is more crucial than ever to secure a good-paying job. A diploma is financially out of reach for many families who must turn to student loans for assistance in order to build a stronger future for their children; and

Whereas, High interest rates on student loans are an anchor around the necks of young professionals, preventing them from saving, starting businesses and buying homes. Outstanding student loan debt was $1.3 trillion in 2014, up $100 billion from the previous year. One in five households nationwide is paying student loan debt. More than 70 percent of college graduates are trapped in debt before their lives as working adults can even begin. Furthermore, more than 11 percent of the debt is delinquent, damaging credit scores needed to secure mortgages and other loans. Student loan debt has a crippling effect on our economy, keeping graduates from fully participating in economic opportunities that are supposed to come with a college degree; and

Whereas, Refinancing is not an option for student loans as it is for other types of loans, for mortgages, cars, and businesses as interest rates fall. Student loans typically have interest rates of 7 percent or more, higher than most other forms of consumer lending, with the compounding burdens of existing debt and ever-accruing interest. The federal government makes $66 billion a year in interest on student loan debt. Many college graduates are trapped in debt for a good part of their earning career. Seventeen percent of those with student loans are 50 and over. We are giving our young people a financial life sentence in exchange for a diploma. Those with outstanding student loan debt should be able to refinance at current government-subsidized interest rates, which are below 4 percent; and

Whereas, If student loans could be refinanced it would give students the same opportunity that other borrowers have when interest rates decline. This would bring much needed relief to millions of student borrowers, help boost our economy, and strengthen America's middle class. It would allow millions of people to keep more of their hard-earned money to put a down payment on a home, build a new business, start a family, or invest in the community. It would create a fairer shot at an affordable higher education, making that dream accessible to every student; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation that allows the refinancing of student loans; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Financial Services.

Messages from the Senate

Senate Bill No. 305, entitled

The Senate has passed the bill.

Explanation of “No” Votes

Rep. Chirkun, having reserved the right to explain his protest against the passage of House Bill Nos. 4499, 4500, 4503, 4504, 4505, 4506, 4507 and 4508, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

As a former law enforcement officer with almost 29 years of experience in the Wayne County Sheriff’s Department, I know the value firsthand of the current asset forfeiture laws. The current law saves taxpayer money and enhances public safety by seizing the assets of people who are suspected of using these assets in a criminal act. I have personally been involved with these raids. Before law enforcement takes an action, there must be probable cause. Law enforcement does not just go in for no reason. Any evidence seized in a raid is tagged as evidence and held for a period of time. There is a process currently in place for individuals to petition the court to get any seized assets back. Safeguards exist in the current process. I oppose these bills because I believe it is an unfunded mandate for our police departments. At a time when many departments are understaffed, there will more paperwork required by police departments to handle and then submit to the state and that will mean less time is spent actually stopping crime. The state will also have to hire someone to compile the reports increasing the size of state government. Supporters of this legislation fail to consider these points.”
