Rev. Jessica Shults, Pastor of Standale Reformed Church in Walker, offered the following invocation:

“Dear God, we begin this afternoon by lifting up and remembering those whose days are dark. The 70,000 left homeless in the Bahamas by Dorian and still others on the coast of our own nation asking what’s next after the destruction from tornados and storm surges devastated their homes. We grieve the reality of lives lost from ongoing gun violence, we are distraught by the number of lives ravaged by addiction, and our hearts break at the stories of children who continue to go without life’s most basic needs. This week on the 18th anniversary of 9/11 we remember and honor lives lost in the horrors of war and the ongoing fight for freedom. Each day we experience sadness and grief that this is not the way ‘things are supposed to be.’ And yet we have hope and are so very grateful that Your mission is to heal and restore wholeness to all of creation in every dimension. To usher in Shalom and our hearts yearn for that day.

But today, as we live in this ‘not yet reality,’ we courageously believe that loving God and loving one another is the key to leverage positive change and we give our word to partner with You as Shalom is ushered in.

We believe this, based on the truth Paul writes to the Corinthians...If I speak in the tongues of human eloquence and of angels, but have not love, I am only a resounding gong or a clanging cymbal. If I have the gift of prophecy and can fathom all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have a faith that can move mountains, but have not love, I am nothing.

Today we pray that we will continue to learn to Love God and love each other well. We pray that we will unite visibly around loving one another so that peace may flood our land. But as we pray, we recognize we must also repent because each day we fall short of loving God and loving others as well as we should. For the prophet Isaiah reminds us in chapter 1 and chapter 58...that God was not healing the land of Israel because God’s people were ignoring the injustice, oppression and the poor in their land. And we do not want that to be our story.

And so as we pray for the Spirit to usher in both unity and peace, may we not forget that God invites us to be people of action and change reflecting God’s heart. The prophet Micah reminds us of God’s instructions ‘And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly and to love mercy and walk humbly with our God.’ May each one of us in our places of privilege and power use our voice along with our abundance of resources to act justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with our God.

May we love You God and love each other so well in this state/nation that we might unite over a call to action to be personally transformed; becoming catalysts mobilizing individuals across our state/nation to become people of Shalom in our homes, neighborhoods, workplaces, and schools; to serve the poor, the marginalized and those in need; to work for the common good, and to restore individuals, social systems and communities and our state/nation to God’s design.

Based on our love of God and one another, may our posture change from that of inaction; stuck in cycles of blame and pointing fingers to a posture of action, personal responsibility, through our word and deed modelling characteristics of true love for all.”

The Speaker assumed the Chair.

Rep. Rabhi moved that Rep. Robinson be excused from today’s session.
The motion prevailed.

Motions and Resolutions

Reps. Sowerby, LaGrand, Love, Hope, Pohutsky, Sneller, Stone, Ellison, Bolden, Pagan, Elder, Haadsma, Kuppa, Manoogian, Rabhi, Anthony, Gay-Dagnogo, Hood, Brixie, Lasinski, Shannon, Howell, Marino, Wozniak, Eisen, Brann, Garza and Sabo offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 152.

A resolution to urge the President of the United States to nominate commissioners to fill the vacancies on the Federal Election Commission.

Whereas, A strong campaign finance enforcement system is vital to democracy. The administration of campaign finance laws and regulations helps ensure transparency and accountability in our elections and government; and

Whereas, The Federal Election Commission (FEC), led by six commissioners that may not include more than three people from the same political party, is charged with administering federal campaign finance law. With jurisdiction over the U.S. House, Senate, and presidential elections, the FEC deals with the disclosure of campaign funds and the enforcement of limits to contributions and expenditures. The FEC is necessary to having integrity, transparency, and accountability in the federal campaign finance system; and

Whereas, Beginning September 2019, the FEC will have three vacancies on its six-member commission, leaving the body without a quorum to conduct much of its important business. The commission will not be able to hold meetings, engage in rulemaking, decide enforcement matters, and carry out other critical functions. While the FEC will still function in some capacity, it will be significantly limited without a quorum on its board of commissioners; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we urge the President of the United States to nominate commissioners to fill the vacancies on the Federal Election Commission; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Elections and Ethics.

The Speaker called Associate Speaker Pro Tempore Hornberger to the Chair.

Reports of Standing Committees

The Speaker laid before the House

House Resolution No. 93.

A resolution to urge the Congress of the United States to allow jail and prison inmates to be eligible for Medicaid coverage.

(For text of resolution, see House Journal No. 46, p. 542.)

(The resolution was reported by the Committee on Judiciary on September 3.)

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.
