Rep. Kevin Daley, from the 82nd District, offered the following invocation:

“Heavenly Father as we gather on these final days of this legislative session. Please give us the wisdom to do what is right for the people of this great State. Help us to make the decisions, and to work from both sides of the aisle for what is right and just. Please keep all of those involved in this great establishment in Your sight as we go through this most holy Christmas season. We pray for all of the members who are serving their final days here and those newly elected that will be beginning their service in the New Year. We pray for those that will be continuing here in the House and those that will be moving onto the Senate as well. God please keep them and their families all safe through this holiday season. With that we pray:

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

(For Thine is the Kingdom, the Power and the Glory forever, in Jesus’ name) Amen.”

Motions and Resolutions

Reps. Nesbitt and Hooker offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 466.

A resolution in support of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality - Office of Oil, Gas, and Minerals’ application seeking primacy for Class II Underground Injection Control.

Whereas, The federal Safe Drinking Water Act requires the regulation of injection wells to ensure that underground injections will not endanger drinking water sources. States may apply to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to assume primary enforcement authority but must maintain state regulations at least as stringent as federal regulations to receive that authority. Michigan has not received primacy, and the EPA currently regulates injection wells in Michigan; and

Whereas, The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) Office of Oil, Gas, and Minerals is seeking primacy for Class II injection wells associated with the oil and gas industry. Under authority granted by the Legislature, the DEQ already regulates the approximately 1,400 Class II wells in Michigan to protect the environment and, more importantly, our citizens’ drinking water; and

Whereas, The state of Michigan is well-equipped to meet the responsibilities associated with assuming primacy and has an excellent record of accomplishment in protecting our state’s environment and natural resources. DEQ’s professional geologists and engineers throughout the state have extensive experience in well permitting, construction, operation, plugging, and abandonment and familiarity with our state’s geography and geology as well as cultural, climatic, social, and economic issues; and

Whereas, Receiving primacy over the underground injection control program for Class II wells will eliminate an unnecessary and duplicative level of regulation for the oil and gas industry. Michigan will be able to join the thirty-three other states that have already received primacy and be able to provide more responsive service and a more efficient regulatory structure while not sacrificing any protections of drinking water; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we support the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality - Office of Oil, Gas, and Minerals’ application seeking primacy for Class II Underground Injection Control and encourage the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to approve the application expeditiously; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Administrator of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency’s Region 5 and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

The Speaker, on behalf of the entire membership of the House of Representatives, offered the following resolution:

He also made significant contributions to the subcommittees on Corrections, Military and Veterans Affairs, State Police, and General Government; now, therefore, be it

A resolution of tribute to the Honorable Kate Segal.

Whereas, It is with appreciation that we thank Representative Segal for her service to the state and this legislative body. She has worked tirelessly and with passion on behalf of her constituents in the Sixty-second District over the past six years; and

Whereas, Kate Segal is a proud alumnus of Kalamazoo College where she received a bachelor's degree in sociology. Her dedication to public service led her to serve on the Calhoun County Board of Commissioners for six years, two of which were as the board's chairperson. She also founded and chaired the Calhoun County Health Plan. Her drive to help others and to make a difference in her community led her to travel to Lansing and work as a democratic policy analyst; and

For six years, she has brought her insight and knowledge to innumerable committees, including Agriculture, Urban Policy, Michigan Competitiveness, and as a vice-chair for the Insurance and Health Policy committees. Recognizing her leadership skills, her colleagues selected her to be the House Minority Floor Leader for the 2011-2012 legislative session. Whereas, It is most appropriate to recognize the service of Representative Mike Shirkey to the Sixty-fifth District and the entire state as he leaves the Michigan House of Representatives. Over the past four years, he has tirelessly addressed the issues that are most important to the future of our state; and

Whereas, Mike Shirkey earned a bachelor's degree from the General Motors Institute and a Master of Science in mechanical engineering from the University of Wisconsin. After working as an engineer and manager at General Motors for thirteen years, he started his own company, Orbitform. The experiences he gained while turning Orbitform into a world-class prototype engineering company stirred a desire in him to affect a change in public policy. He served on the Columbia Central School Board and chaired the board of the Allegiance Health System; and

Whereas, Upon his election to the Michigan House of Representatives in 2010, Mike Shirkey brought his analytical and leadership skills to Lansing. Recognizing his ability to ask probing questions and separate fact from fiction, he was appointed to serve on important policy committees, such as the Energy and Technology Committee and the Health Policy Committee. He was also appointed chair of the Michigan Competitiveness Committee. Representative Shirkey has authored new laws in the areas of campaign finance, natural resources, tax, public utilities, and children; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we offer this expression of our gratitude to the Honorable Mike Shirkey as he says good-bye to this legislative body; and be it further

Whereas, Representative Slavens first won election in 2008 and was re-elected in 2010 and 2012. Her background as a health care professional gave her insight into matters concerning the needs of others and contributed to her work on the Families, Children, and Seniors Committee and the Military and Veterans Affairs Committee. A resolution of tribute for the Honorable Thomas F. Stallworth III.

Whereas, Coming from a Detroit family with a long tradition of public service, Thomas Stallworth has had a passion for the political forum since he was a student when he began a lifelong commitment to social and economic justice issues; and

Whereas, Representative Stallworth brought his extensive experience in leadership positions in city government, public utilities, and nonprofit organizations to the Michigan Legislature in 2011 and ably served as chair of the Michigan Legislative Black Caucus, the Detroit Caucus, and on the House Democratic Leadership Team. He worked to provide property tax relief through residential property tax abatements and spearheaded legislation that helped protect Michigan's natural resources. He was also a champion of automobile insurance reform and hate crime legislation and has been a strong supporter of legislation that would allow all citizens to vote using absentee ballots, regardless of reason. Representative Stanley's voice in this chamber will be missed; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That for his years of service and commitment to the communities and citizens of the Great Lakes state, we extend our gratitude to the Honorable Woodrow Stanley as he concludes his service to this legislative body; and be it further

A bill to amend 1855 PA 105, entitled “An act to regulate the disposition of the surplus funds in the state treasury; to provide for the deposit of surplus funds in certain financial institutions; to lend surplus funds pursuant to loan agreements secured by certain commercial, agricultural, or industrial real and personal property; to authorize the loan of surplus funds to certain municipalities; to authorize the participation in certain loan programs; to authorize an appropriation; and to prescribe the duties of certain state agencies,” by amending section 1 (MCL 21.141), as amended by 2012 PA 287.

The bill was read a second time.

Rep. Stamas moved that consideration of the bill be postponed temporarily.

The motion prevailed.

The Speaker resumed the Chair.

Comments and Recommendations

Rep. Stamas moved that the following remarks be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Rep. Haveman:

“When planning these comments, I set 3 fundamental rules for myself. I will not discuss the inner meaning of music any dead jazz artist, I will not mention Lisa Lyons electricity, and I will not pull a Fred Durhal.

I like to tell people that this is something I’ve wanted to do since I was a child. What I didn’t know was how much I would love it.

Many of us come here with warnings from back home to not let Lansing change us. How can it not. After 6 years I had better not be the same person I was in 2008. You can’t work day in and day out with staff, other elected officials, employees, lobbyists without being changed. And frankly, I’d like to believe we’ve changed for the better. I believe that all of you have helped me grow.

I remember that first month as a freshman when the lobbying community paraded itself thru our offices to size us up. One day I had one of those meetings with the combined group of the ACLU, the Triangle Foundation and Planned Parenthood. To be honest, to this little Christian Reformed, republican dutch boy from Holland, I thought I entered the gates of Hell. Today I may still have still have huge religious and philosophical differences with other people and other groups, but I also have greater respect for someone else’s views. Today, my world is bigger, my knowledge is broader and more importantly, my views are less black and white than they were. If I’m not any smarter, I at least have a little more perspective.

As with past comments, I want to say thank you to a few people.....So...first and foremost, I want to thank God for giving me this opportunity to serve in such a phenomenal way.

To Kim and the kids, thanks for letting me get this out of my system. You didn’t understand why this was important to me but you supported my every step of the way. To my constituents, thank you for your support and encouragement. Many of my constituents actually thank me for serving when they don’t realize that I enjoy coming to work so much that if could have afforded it, I would have done it for nothing.

Lisa Lyons, you rock. You're smart and beautiful and I wish there were more people like you. Oh, that's awkward. See Lisa took my phone Thursday night and wrote that herself. I was supposed to delete it.

To our staffs: policy staff, communications, campaign staff, thank you. Thank you for making me look smarter and more talented than I am. To House Fiscal Agency, thank you for helping comprehend the complexity of a $50 billion budget. Especially to Mary Ann Cleary and Kyle Jen, thanks for not making fun of me when you knew that I didn't comprehend it.

To a few dear friends like Doug Geiss, Fred Durhal, Harold Haugh and Andy Kandrevas, thanks for making me feel like one of the guys, even back during those first two years. To others that I've grown to call friends like Lesia Liss, Roy Schmidt and Lisa Howze, we didn't finish together, but our friendship will last.

To the friends in my caucus, thank you for the discussions, the debates and the laughter. We kept it civil. We kept it professional and we kept it fun. My friend Ken Kurtz, as dean you made sure that we cared for each other. Most of you don't know it but there were times when Dean Kurtz would grab a few people, bring them to the caucus room and have a prayer for one of us that had something going on in our lives. That and our Wednesday morning bible study, kept life in perspective. Dean Kurtz and all of you that would be there on Wednesday mornings, thank you.

To Ed McBroom, you are such a class act. I know that you will care for this caucus with the same compassion as Ken.

To the appropriations committee on both sides of the isle, thank you for following when things needed to get done and leading when things could have been done better. Please treat next year's Chairman with the same level commitment.

To Roger Kahn and John Nixon and John Roberts, thanks for your partnership. Even during the occasional disagreements, we did it with respect and comradery.

To my little sister Rashida Tlaib. This was a special relationship. As different as you would think we are, we actually both had a heart for some of the same things, but on most things she was just plain nuts. Seriously, when two people as different as us from such different backgrounds can become friends, then there is no reason why we as political parties can't work together. I call her my little sister because we fought like a brother and sister. Depending on the day, I would feel her wrath and the language that came with it. But at the end of the day I respected her and her passion. Rashida, thank you for being such a great public servant to the people of Detroit and such a great friend to me.

To my staff. Connie Burgess, your experience has been invaluable. Maybe some of you have this but I used to regularly be back in the district and be thanked for something I did but didn't know that I did. That was because Connie would be fixing people's problems without making any fan fair over it. I finally asked her to start making a list so I didn't look like a deer in the headlights when people came up to me. Jonathan Snavely. What a rock star. Your way too smart to be answering the phone and doing my schedule but that also means that you have an incredible future ahead of you. Leadership, don't let this one go.

And Patti. Patti Hertrich is one of a kind. Early on I realized who was really in charge. At one point in my first year as Chairman, I acknowledged to her that she had a unique gift of being able to make me believe that I was actually running the office. The two of us just clicked. She would regularly talk me off a ledge when I was upset show me a more rational way to pursue what we were trying to get. And we did it all with a lot of laughter in the office.

To Jase, Jim, John, Wayne and Pete, the boys of the J-Team, thank you. We have been thru a lot together. We accomplished more than we thought was possible and we laughed with each other and at each other. Jase would constantly remind me that a few years ago all I ever wanted to do was fix PA 312 and then I'd be happy. That was until we fixed PA312. Doug Geiss and I started it and Jeff Farrington finished it. Well my list changed and got longer and we kept checking more things off the list. Jase used to talk about driving out of Lansing this week, knowing that we left things better than when we got here and I talked about not boring my grandkids about things that we almost did. I think we both got our wish. Guys, the leadership changes, our lives move to the next stage but the friendship stays.

To those who I call my friends in Crime, Dan Heyns, Russ Marlan, Doug Mains, Jim Litsky, Mary Engle, Robin Risco, Noah Smith, KC Stuckelberg, Barb Levin, Shelly Wiesberg and so many more. Thank you for changing me. To one very special woman named Janet Kissling. Janet is the mother of three of our staff people, the aunt of one of our formerly incarcerated citizens, the sister of one of our prison advocates and truly one of God's angels living among us. Janet, your words of encouragement, your prayers and verses made it so clear that this course of action was not by chance. Thank you.

Back in 2009, I never expected to focus so heavily on corrections. But the people with whom I've worked, the issues that we've worked on and the people on both sides of the bars who I've met, have been a blessing in my life greater than any contribution I could have made. This country has focused on the 'pound of cure' solution to crime since Ronald Reagan was president. The result is that we have the most incarcerated country on earth. And we have a crime problem. Now it's time to work on the 'ounce of prevention'. For you who are returning and those that begin in a few weeks, this issue will become easier. There are a few old dinosaurs left in this town that don't want any change. But don't worry, we know what happens to dinosaurs and in today's world the voters have your back.

To the many friends in the lobby core, I'm sure I've forgotten someone, but let me do a shout out to Nell Kuhnmuensch,

If I may offer a word of advice to the new freshman. You are blessed to be able to embark on a cool journey that few people are ever allowed to.

Take advantage of it. Get out of your comfort zone and get to know people with whom you have nothing in common. Listen more than you speak. Learn. Don't take yourself too seriously. Don't believe your own press releases and remember that people don't care what you know until they know that you care.

I remember the old saying that I may have opponents but I don't want to have enemies. If I have treated any of you as an enemy, I sincerely apologize. I will remember you all with both affinity and admiration. Thank you to all of you for making this entire experience everything that I could have asked for in these past six years.

God Bless you all."

Rep. Stamas:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker,

I must first start with my thanks and love to my Lord, and my family - my wife Marsha and my daughter Jessica, who I'm blessed to have with me today, and to our son Nickolas. The parades, doors and just dealing with me for the last six years couldn't have been easy, and I cannot express my gratitude for their love and support. I Love you!

To the 98th district, my home of Midland, Saginaw and Bay City. I have learned so much of the heart, strength and spirit of this district. It is truly my honor to have had the opportunity to serve you, and I thank you.

Then I have to mention my brother Tony, who has helped me so much...If I only had a dollar for each time I have been called Tony I could be retired. And I have not forgotten the late evening in the Senate when you tried to have me kicked off the floor by the Senate Sergeants. You have been a great counselor, and while I have not always taken all your advice, you have always offered sound and positive wisdom. I cannot say thank you enough.

I cannot express my humbled privilege to work with Clerk Randall, Clerk Brown and each of the ladies and gentlemen of the clerk's office. You each are professionals of the highest caliber, always here when we arrive and staying long after we are gone. My gratitude and appreciation cannot be put into words.

To Sergeant Dickson and each of our red coats. What I have said to our Clerks stands true to each of you as well. The respect and decorum you help to maintain in this chamber is a foundation Michiganders can be proud of.

To our policy, communications and caucus staff. So many hours and so much time dedicated to finding answers and solutions. Your work has not gone unnoticed and it is amazing to watch you work with such passion. The many accomplishments of this caucus is a testament of what you have helped make happen.

Over my six years in the house I have also worked with the House I.S. Dept., House Fiscal, LSB, the Business Office and so many others that make this House work. It is amazing the amount of work that is required to make this great body work and you each do it so well. Thank you!

To my staff that I have been so blessed to have. It is amazing what we have accomplished. Griff, Andrew, and Scott you have each moved on to the next evolution of your careers and are doing so well. Kayla and Joelle, our ways may part soon, but you are always part of the Stamas family. And to Eric, Meghann and Shoaf who are continuing on with me to the Senate, someone once said that the definition of insanity is to do the same thing over and over and expect a different result, yet as often as some days seem the same it never is. We have so many more great things to do and I cannot imagine doing them without you.

Phil - you have been with the leadership team from the start, and we could not have done it without you. I am proud to call you friend. Jeremy, you kept us on track and helped us accomplish our goals - thank you.

To my fellow Floor leaders David, Rudy, and Kate. You have each approached the job so differently yet have been worthy in each of your own right. Kate, it was not the pointed heels I worried about but the big thick heels that steadied you. I have never played hockey nor been checked until you. Rudy your vision is good and sometimes we take one step back to take two steps forward. David, I looked up the definition of a gentlemen and leader and I found your name.

There are so many member names here and in the past that I wrote down with some really good stories, but found that there is no way to start and finish in the same day. I also realized that as many stories or memories as I have they also may choose to share some of the one's I would have left out. So mutual discloser is at hand.

Four years ago, when I ran for the honor of being the Majority Floor Leader, it was my goal to bring back to the floor the ability to have both majority and minority members speak to bills before the House. This was something that had been lost by both parties for several terms. Over the last four years, I'm proud that we have heard many speakers in support and opposition to bills before us. I also wanted members to have time between second and third readings. In my first term, it had again become the practice to discharge a bill, amend the bill and vote on the bill within minutes of each other. Over the last four years, that has also become the exception - not standard practice. I believe with these changes we have made significant strides to bringing back Statesmanship and decorum to this body.

To Floor Leader Nesbitt, I have two simple request - Please take what has been started and continue to build on it and take care of my clerks and sergeants as I know they will you. I know you will. And as a reminder, I pass this tie of Elephants and donkeys on to you.

Mr. Speaker and Speaker Pro Tempore Walsh, it seems just yesterday that we first met with a vision of a direction to set Michigan on a course of recovery. The miles, doors and issues have been so many. Your strength and leadership has accomplished what we first set out to do and so much more.

To Wayne, Joe and Pete, I'm so proud of what we were able to accomplish as a team. We started as fellow Representatives, but you five have become my friends, brothers and family.

So dear colleagues, please let me say this to each and every one of you. We each came to Lansing with something in common - a passion to make a difference for our district and the residents of Michigan. I'm honored to serve with each of you, as I have learned, no matter how long you've been here or what party you serve in, your motivation and dedication is making a difference for your community and our state.

And as I say goodbye to this Chamber, I feel confident that the Michigan of today and the Michigan of tomorrow is a better place because of each of you and your service.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Rep. Walsh:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker.

I welcome this opportunity to say farewell with both joy and sadness. Thankfully, I have family here to help me close this chapter in my life. A chapter that could never have been written but for their love, support and sacrifice.

My wife Janice, daughter Shelby, and Mother-in-Law Lynne are present, and my son Jack joins us in spirit while he finishes finals. Janice has been a constant at my side and a confidant of my joy, frustration, and fascination with this process.

I'll never forget when Shelby immediately occupied my chair during her first visit to my office, or when Jack summed up our work here after a day of meetings, meals and session, when he concluded that I eat and talk all day.

My loving thanks to Janice, Jack and Shelby for their patience, understanding and support, but mostly for their love. And so too I thank the rest of my family and the people at home that helped me run and win, and then later helped me succeed while keeping my feet on the ground. Friends like my campaign manager Brian Meakin and my mentor, friend and second father, Livonia Mayor Jack Kirksey. Finally, a prayer of thanks to my parents, who are watching from above – for the person I am today started with them.

As I face you today, I see first sons and daughters, brothers & sisters, husbands and wives, mothers and fathers, friends and devoted public servants. We are elected officials, but we are each so much more, by similarities, by differences, and unified, at the very least, by a sincere, closely held desire to help others – for the path to this Chamber is far too great to be pursued without that desire. We are bound by a common goal, a common aspiration for something better.

I've enjoyed coming to know many of you. Even when political discussions ensued with inevitable disagreements, I treasured our time together.

Arriving deep in the minority allowed the fighting 43 to bond closely. Kevin Elsenheimer led our caucus with dignity and distinction. He made sure we had an impact on public policy and prepared us for effective leadership in the future.

There are so many more I would love to acknowledge, but time and our collective attention span weighs against that. And so I recognize some personal standouts – and pray no one takes offense.

Matt Lori and Kevin Daley, two of the finest men I know – resolute, committed and reasonable.

Al Pscholka, for taking the lead on some of the toughest issues, and keeping a sense of humor all the while.

Ken Kurtz taught this Catholic how to acknowledge God publicly with comfort. Ken prayed for all of us and our loved ones on a regular basis on the floor, in the caucus room, and even in the lobby of the Lexington Hotel. Thank you, Ken.

In absentia, I thank Mark Meadows for being an awesome Vice Chair of Judiciary last term.

Pete MacGregor, a true confidant and friend, we worked hard to improve a number of bills for passage.

Tom McMillan, thank you for your hard work on indigent defense. This bill will be our sleeper, one that will have a larger impact on our citizens than that imagined today.

Rashida Tlaib, you possess an irresistible combination of charm, intelligence and passion for public service. I was proud to stand with you during the scrap metal fight.

Ken Yonker, I appreciated your dedication to service and your courage. I also like your corny jokes, made even better when you can't tell them.

Leader Greimel, Floor Leaders Rutledge and Hobbs, I have enjoyed working with each of you, and thank you for your professionalism and comradery.

Kate Segal – you found yourself in the unenviable position of going from the majority to the minority, and then leading while we ran a very aggressive agenda that impacted many of those principles most important to your caucus. And you did so with strength, procedure, and even righteous indignation - that was sincere without being over the top. While we tussled now and again, my respect for you only grew over time.

Eileen Kowall and Hugh Crawford, thank you for adopting me into the Oakland County Caucus during our first term, when I chaired the Wayne County Republican Caucus – membership of 1. You let me belong, supported me, and Chuck Moss celebrated with martinis.

Mike Shirkey, the man with the worst poker face in the world. Your joy, disdain, or confusion on any given bill raised in caucus was clear. But in every case, you did your homework and reached a rational, fact based decision. I appreciate not only your studied nature, but the maturity to get to yes even when a no was nagging you like a bad habit.

And as much as I enjoyed getting to know many of you, I equally regret that I didn't have the time to get to know you all. Brandon Dillon, Dan Lauwers, and Jon Bumstead – just a few of the people I've been impressed with but wish I had time to know better. Damn you term limits.

As an aging citizen, I believe my future is secure because of sharp, dedicated people like Andrea LaFontaine, Frank Foster and David Knezek are here - just starting their careers in public service. Frank, I fully expect that you will return to the public arena – and I will be there to help.

I can't imagine another place where so many ideas, opinions, fact and fiction, collide – think about it – 110 of us with our own priorities, amplified by over 300 staff members and the needs, likes, desires and opinions of 90,000 citizens, all coming together here like an atom smasher, creating great energy and debate.

And with all that action, opinion, fact and fiction, I realized early on that a good idea isn't enough – because my good idea may be your worst nightmare. It requires a good idea, hard work, a willingness to compromise on your own bill and to support another's idea that maybe isn't so good but important to them. And maybe, after all that, your good idea progresses through the system.

By the way, compromise is not a bad word. In fact, it is absolutely essential to the growth and stability of our society, the very human condition itself. Yes, we all have principles – but they often conflict. Nevertheless, everyone's principles deserve respect.

Thankfully, our form of government is designed to be inclusive, and to drive a slow, deliberate, and even difficult method of law making, one that is heavily dependent on compromise and cooperation for the common good.

I often proudly proclaim to any who listen that over 90% of our bills pass on a bipartisan basis. We agree far more often than the credit we're given, or the credit we give ourselves. There is nothing like occasionally bringing order and consensus to a sometimes garrulous and quarrelsome group of leaders that results in some measure of improvement for our fellow Michiganders.

We are engaged in what many believe is a noble pursuit – and I ascribe to that notion while understanding that we are also engaged in a blood sport. Campaigns are competitions between citizens, and legislation is a battle of ideas. There should be no shame in this . . . unless our competition goes too far. It is awfully difficult for one to rise to a challenge of cooperation from another who has publicly proclaimed the first hates children, or some other absurd accusation. Worse yet, our collective reputations suffer in the eyes of a public weary of such conduct. Let's do better to avoid self-inflicted wounds on this body and our profession. For it is, indeed, a noble profession.

Looking back over the six years, I relish so many mountains climbed and challenges won. In some cases, sweeping, generational changes adopted to meet the struggles of our desperate times as the last decade closed and the new decade began.

A healthier economy, more people at work, a balanced, timely budget, are just a few of the successes we can count as partly related to those actions. While I believe that more success remains to be seen from our actions, only time will tell. I'm sure to wonder at some point 'just what were we thinking,' when a well-intentioned Public Act proves a disaster. For we are only human.

I would be remiss if I didn't mention the Grand Bargain, which will likely define my time here. I sure wasn't on anyone's mind until a couple of years ago.

The Governor approached the Speaker and I in late 2013, as just the hint of a possible settlement arose – was there a way to end the bankruptcy, avoid greater loss to the State, preserve the opportunities that exist, and soften the blow to thousands of retirees living throughout our great state? And in time, and after months of hard, hard work, the answer was yes.

Thank you to the committee members, Tom Stallworth, Earl Poleski, Mike McCready, and Harvey Santana, for making room in your already busy lives to address this issue. And thank you all – whether you voted yes or no, for spending the time to carefully consider a highly complicated package of bills. It was a difficult slog, but we rose above the sound-bite, east v. west, black v. white, management v. labor, and republican v. democrat, to reach a fact-based decision.

It has also been my privilege to preside over this Chamber. A true honor. I aspired to an open airing of views and opinions - even when your body-language, facial expressions, and volume indicated it was time for one speaker or another to end their speech. Harold Haugh, no one gave me better direction of the Chamber's mood than you – I only wish I could have filmed your expressions to share with all of our colleagues.

While sometimes members to my right may have been unseen, I assure you my left eye troubled me as well, particularly when the Speaker would want to insert himself in some procedural issue. As crazy as it may sound, my left eye and ear sometimes failed me at the exact same time that Majority Leader Stamas's right eye and ear failed him as well. The Speaker would vehemently complain that we ignored him – but nothing could be further from the truth.

I never arrived with a preconceived notion of when to use it. All judgment calls, and sometimes, I'll admit, not quite right. I apologized to Tom McMillan and Tim Bledsoe for ruling them out of order – failing to understand how their words matched to the issue at hand, even when they did. And I had to apologize to Woodrow Stanley and Richard LeBlanc, both of whom I respect deeply, who paid the price for a prior speaker's outburst.

No matter how cool I may have looked, there were days when I was a nervous wreck leaving the podium.

I hope that you will judge me on the whole and forgive any transgression or insult delivered, real or perceived.

But I also had fun – believe me, watching the likes of you in your daily activities on the floor provided a never ending source of amusement for Gary, Rich and I. Ken Yonker and others would try to make me laugh with all kinds of gestures and facial expressions. I even had to leave the podium once after defeating a McBroom motion when the ayes and nays weren't quite what I expected.

And sometimes I had to hold a smile – Rep. Brandon Dillon, someone I respect, would often rise during last session to decry education funding cuts, proclaiming with each rise a greater and greater amount - $500 million, $700 million, until one day he reached the crescendo of Dr. Evil and proclaimed 'One Billion Dollars.'

And now, a difficult part – time to recognize those who have had the greatest impact on my time here – those who have become colleagues and my friends:

Val Knol, my chief of staff for all six years, and friend for so much longer than that. She kept me on time, watched my back like a hawk, and was never shy, in the privacy of my office, to occasionally challenge my positions. And I needed all of that.

Steve Heikinen and Dave Hodgkins, who supported me at the beginning and end, respectively, of my time in office, were great.

Brett Visner, who had a huge impact on my office and on the Judiciary Committee last session. We ran over 200 bills out of committee then, and there is absolutely no question – I could not have done that without him.

Brock Swartzle and Travis Weber – thank you for help with so many issues, but most of all Detroit. If you want to know the people who really understand both what we did here, and the totality of what the bankruptcy court did, and how the two are entwined, look no further.

Likewise, Patti Trembley-Pluta and Rachel Richards, who helped us navigate through perilous legal and political issues during highly complicated negotiations, minding their party while cooperating for the common good.

The Republican central staff – Brian Mills, Norm Saari, Doug Mains, Craig Ryan, Jeremy Hendges, Suzanne Miller Allen, Phil Brown, Brian Shoaf and Joelle Demand – awesome, dedicated staff members and personal friends. How lucky are we to have them.

Suzanne Miller Allen, in particular, was a huge asset – our leadership team was clueless in 2012, and she was anything but. Thankfully, she was there with us as we grew into our own.

And with great thanks, I recognize our Clerks and their staff. Gary and Rich, solemn keepers of the decorum and tradition in this honorable chamber, some of my best discussions in this Chamber were with the two of you, between votes, as we talked politics, policy, family and daily events, not to mention electric generators.

To the Sergeants – thank you for kind, patient and protective services. Speaker Dillon once shared this story with me about Sergeant Dickson – He asked if Sergeant Dickson would truly take a bullet for him, to which Sergeant Dickson responded 'No sir . . . but I will shoot the man that shot you.'

The lobby corps – a much misunderstood and maligned group of professionals that are as indispensable to our process as our staff, and we ourselves. History, knowledge, perspective, certainly advocacy, all on behalf of who – citizens, groups, agencies and companies, everyone deserving of their representation. And they sometimes helped in ways you could never imagine, like Tom Hoisington, when he helped Speaker Dillon and I work our way through a disagreement.

A shout out to Melissa Yutzey, Jim Kirsch, Greg Clark, and Adrian Casal – for being good lobbyists and advisors, and just plain good people. To Kirk Profit, Mike Hawks, and Steve Young, thank you for your advice, both on politics and policy, whether you had a dog in the fight or not.

My seat mate – Lisa Lyons. We shared a lot of laughs, moments of hope and others of frustration, but mostly laughs. It was great having you as a seat mate – and now certainly a life-long friend.

Wayne Schmidt: Salt of the earth, and by that I mean, and essential ingredient to nearly everything we have discussed and done. Unfailing in loyalty, perceptive, and a great sense of humor and humility, I am thankful for all the good public policy you brought to my attention.

Pete Lund: For those of you who know him only for his political edge, I wish you had the full picture. To be sure, Pete is one of the finest political strategists I know personally. But there is so much more – a man who loves his family, and with whom I share an interest in South Park and Howard Stern, not to mention Disney World and Las Vegas – two places where nothing is real and everything is possible – maybe that is why we both like this chamber so much.

Joe Haveman: With that confident swagger, quick smile, and a friendly approach, he is the most touchy feely of the Jteam, and I love him for that. I still remember when we first met while on the campaign trail. He asked why I was running, and I said to bring accountability and common sense to the capital. Glaring at me, he asked ‘well, what does that mean’ and pressed me to explain my campaign brochure statements.

Jim Stamas: This guy watches the rest of us like a momma bird. He will walk the floor when someone’s vote, anyone’s vote, seems amiss, to be sure they’ve voted opposite the rest of us on purpose. I asked Gary and Rich if they have ever seen such a thing, and neither of them ever had. While he fills the role of our ‘muscle,’ he really is the biggest teddy bear that I have ever met. I can easily apply a quote from Teddy Roosevelt, after whom the teddy bear was named. While he was discussing our country’s character, like I can now describe Jim’s, he said: ‘the American Grizzly is a symbol of the American Spirit (fill in Stamas): strength, ferocity, and intelligence. Maybe a little reckless and blind at times (those are his words, Jim) ... but courageous beyond all doubt.’ Thank you, Jim, for watching everyone’s back, and being my friend.

Jase Bolger, Speaker of the House, my worthy adversary when we foolishly ran against each other for that powerful position, Assistant Minority Leader, as Freshman. We were so misled into that process – but we had our fun, and began our friendship then. You are one of the finest leaders I have worked with in 25 years. You hold a position with great authority and respect, and pay a heavy price for nearly all the ills that arise in this City. Take note, Speaker-elect Cotter, you will soon inherit the hottest seat in the State government. I can’t explain it, but as history is my witness, this position draws more attention and criticism than it deserves. And yet, Jase, you performed with amazing results, and I am proud to have been at your side.

On a personal level, you pushed and pulled me at times, while at others I provided you with a safer path and always watched your back. When thinking of you, I am always reminded of this quote from Abraham Lincoln: ‘I am a success because I had a friend who believed in me and I couldn’t let him down.’

The man in the arena!

Ladies and Gentlemen, I thank you for this opportunity to speak, for your commitment to the Great State of Michigan, and pray that for those of you continuing on, that you have the same success, joy, and growth that I have been lucky enough to enjoy.

Farewell.”

The Speaker called the Speaker Pro Tempore to the Chair.

Speaker Bolger:

“Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to thank the hardworking men and women in Calhoun and Kalamazoo counties who lent me their most precious support: their vote.

Next, I want to look back and thank Speaker Andy Dillon and Republican Leader Kevin Elsenheimer for your work to improve things you saw as wrong in the House, and for your help in transition in 2010.

In 2011, on the day you, my fellow representatives, elected me your Speaker, Tim Martin from AP at the time, wrote that we were charged with helping improve Michigan’s economy and state government budget.

We were facing a state that had:

Lost over 800,000 jobs

A $1.5 billion deficit

No money in our savings account

And mounting debt and unfunded liabilities

On these two fronts, you rose to the challenge. Then you helped achieve more.

On opening day in 2011, we discussed:

Cutting our office budgets

Enacting a true 4-year limit for able-bodied adults to receive welfare

Reforming Bridge Cards to curb abuse

Completing the budget by the beginning of June with a forecast for the second year

Repealing the MBT

Reforming taxes for a lower, simpler and broader tax structure

Discussing difficult issues, including Right-to-Work

And...a stricter dress code with a predictable calendar.

On opening day in 2013, we talked about:

Repealing regulations — almost 2,000 are gone now

Improving adoption and prenatal care
 Offering a quality education for every child in Michigan regardless of ZIP Code
 Expanding skilled training opportunities in education
 Continuing to balance the budget by the beginning of June (we mentioned it before the governor, but who is keeping track?)

Paying down debt
 Fixing the roads
 OK, maybe we still have work to do. But with your work we made progress on each of these goals.
 From the hotly contested, like:
 Right-to-Work
 MBT repeal and tax reform
 Reforming government employee benefits
 And changing unemployment and welfare
 To the bipartisan achievements of:
 Providing coverage for autism
 Repealing the PPT and its stifling of jobs
 Reforming the binding arbitration for police and fire of PA 312
 Reforming Medicaid with Healthy Michigan and delivering Detroit's bankruptcy settlement for the state.

You always rose to the challenge, debated with passion and boldly took a stand with your vote.

We are now a Michigan that has:

Over 300,000 more jobs and the lowest unemployment since 2006 — 4 years before we were asked to lead

A structurally balanced budget

Over half a billion dollars in our savings account

Less debt with a plan to be debt-free in about 20 years

I have no doubt that you are leaving Michigan better than you found her.

I am not perfect and unfortunately I have demonstrated that. Just to really prove that point, I've even proven that true on more than a few occasions. Please forgive me. I hope I have learned from each mistake and improved because of them all. As painful as they were for me, I am sorry for others who were hurt by them.

To Democrat leaders Hammel and Greimel, you are fierce competitors, worthy adversaries and, indeed, valued friends. Thank you for your professionalism and your efforts. Where we couldn't agree, you were professional, and where we could work together you almost always did.

Governor Snyder and Senate Majority Leader Richardville — we have had professional disagreements but that didn't stop us from working to achievement.

Throughout it all I have enjoyed the hard work and strong support of dedicated staff.

From the beginning with Derek and Phil to my current office, so many have helped, including:

Suzanne Miller-Allen, whose planning organization and drive are unmatched

Norm Saari, who stepped bravely into uncertainty with a steady hand, both in the office and in life

Phil Browne, whose dedication and loyalty are unparalleled

Jeremy Hedges, strategy and knowledge were key

Ari Adler, your wit is only outmatched by your talent

Brian Mills, once we could get you to talk, you challenged me

Brock Swartzle, we promised you the job would be interesting, and you delivered us brilliance

Hassan Baydoun, your challenge was my challenge. I hope you grew, because I did.

Others, including:

Craig Ryan

Ken Osborne

Lindsay Vogelsberg

Anna Heaton

Gene Lutherloh

Kristin Fair

Eddie Sleeper

Julie Skubik

Charlotte Schredder

And former staff:

John Roberts

Scott Starr

Phyllis Browne

Gideon D'Assandro

Joe Baumann

Michelle McQuiston

And though I get told where to go often and by a lot of people, nobody tells me where to go any nicer than Laura DuBrueil

Tim Bowlin

Clerks Randall and Brown

Chief Dickson

Mary Ann Cleary

John Bowman

and all of your teams

When we agree at 5 p.m. and we leave, your work continues.

To these and those who I failed to name but know who you are: thank you for helping making the institution better than you found it.

To my colleagues, thank you for your support, your spirit and your work. You inspire me and I firmly believe that the House and the state are better because of your time here.

To special friends:

Jim Stamas

John Walsh

Joe Haveman

And, to prove we had diversity and not just 'J' names...

Wayne Schmidt

Pete Lund

Thank you. Through it all, I never looked over my shoulder — pretty rare among political teams — nor did I ever worry if there would be help with the task ahead, I knew you would be there. With you, I knew the team would deliver. And, with you I knew I had the trust and support of brothers.

To my family, and my real brothers

Dad and Betty

Matt and Maureen

And Eric and Melissa at Ft. Bragg

Thank you for your unwavering love and support

My dad and brothers all earned military and police uniforms. They have faced sticks and stones and risked broken bones, while I just had to remember what my mother always said: 'Names will never hurt me.' I thank you for your service and sacrifice.

To my love Molly,

And our kids Nick and Megan

It all started with a family vacation to Boston and Philadelphia. Maybe that wasn't an objective trip to ask if we should run for office, but you had the grace to not accuse me of manipulating through vacationing.

Thank you not just for your unwavering love and support but also for your sacrifices.

I'm sorry for the times I couldn't be there in person.

I'm really sorry for when I was physically there but mentally distracted.

But, I'm eternally grateful for the strength of your support and the comfort and healing of your love.

I want to close by looking to the future.

To Speaker Kevin Cotter...

I have no doubt our state and my kids' futures are brighter with you and this chamber leading the way.

And I say...Tag, you're it! No givebacks!"

Rep. Olumba entered the House Chambers.

The Speaker Pro Tempore called Associate Speaker Pro Tempore O'Brien to the Chair.

Rep. Lyons moved that Rep. Rutledge be excused temporarily from today's session.
The motion prevailed.

Rep. Stamas moved that Rep. Foster be excused temporarily from today's session.
The motion prevailed.

By unanimous consent the House returned to the order of
