Senate Bill 163 (as reported without amendment)
Senate Bill 164 (Substitute S-1 as reported)
Sponsor: Senator Tory Rocca
Committee: Judiciary

CONTENT

Senate Bill 163 would amend Public Act 247 of 1963, which defines "newspaper" as used in State statutes for the publication of a notice, to do the following:

- Revise the definition and apply it to print publications.
- Define "newspaper" as an internet website if no print publication met the Act's criteria.
- Require an internet website to be an online version of a previous newspaper, and meet other standards.
- Allow a notice to be published in a publication or website in an adjoining area, if no newspaper met the criteria for a print publication or internet website.

The bill also would repeal sections of the Revised Judicature Act (RJA) that define "newspaper".

Senate Bill 164 (S-1) would amend the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Act to refer to a newspaper as defined in Public Act 247 of 1963, rather than in the RJA, in requirements for publication of a notice of the sale of surplus land.

The bill also would require notice to be published in a newspaper in a county nearest to the county in which land subject to notice requirements was located, if there were no publication or website that met the requirements of Public Act 247 in the county where the surplus land was located or in an adjoining county. Currently, notice must be published in a newspaper in a county nearest to the county in which surplus land is located if a newspaper is not published in that county.

The bills are tie-barred.

FISCAL IMPACT

Senate Bill 163 would have no effect on State or local revenue and an indeterminate impact on State and local expenses. The impact on expenses would depend how the cost of alternative publication options allowed under the bill would compare with the cost of the options available under current law. Because the additional options under the bill essentially would be available only when the options under current law were not available, the bill would likely have a negligible impact on expenses.

Senate Bill 164 (S-1) would have no fiscal impact on State or local government.
