Efry Spectre, Rabbi, Adat Shalom Synagogue, Farmington Hills, offered the following invocation:

“Our God and God of those who have gone before us, As this august legislative body, the State of Michigan House of Representatives, once more assembles for the opening week of this session, we call to mind at the season of the start of the New Year for the Jewish People, that the Shofar, the ram’s horn, sounded this month, evokes that same sound at Your giving of the Torah, the law, thousands of years ago to the children of Israel at Mt. Sinai. Ever conscious that You have ever decreed us made in Your image and seeking anew some understanding for applying meaningfully that concept, we remind ourselves that with all the possible attributions of glory and power which might invoke Your name, You have chosen to identify Yourself in those Ten Commandments, as the God who brought You forth out of the House of Bondage. O’ Lord, may these Representatives, our great state’s leaders, in like manner, find the fortitude within them to make this their touchstone, that the law issuing forth from these revered chambers find its source and inspiration in the ideal of responsible freedom. May we be worthy, thereby, to walk with You in Your . . . ways of pleasantness, and know . . . Your paths of peace, Amen.”

Rep. Dobronski moved that Reps. Mans and Schermesser be excused from today’s session.
The motion prevailed.

Motions and Resolutions

The Speaker, on behalf of the entire membership of the House of Representatives, offered the following resolution:
House Resolution No. 140.

A resolution offered in memory of the Honorable Doug Carl.

Whereas, The sudden passing of our friend and former House colleague Doug Carl has taken from the Michigan Legislature a man of great principle and devotion to our state. We express our deep sense of loss to his beloved family and offer our sincerest condolences to them. We are confident that the example of his warmth, commitment to ideals, and belief in our democracy will long continue to enrich our state and the legislative process; and

Whereas, Doug Carl came to the Capitol in 1985, following his election to the House of Representatives and his prior service with the Macomb County Board of Commissioners. He brought with him experience in finance and investments, an unshakable dedication to his religious faith and family values, and a personal warmth that earned him great respect. He combined his background as a graduate of Michigan State University and his involvement in community groups to work hard to advance principles consistent with the way he lived. He was tenacious in fighting for limited and more efficient government and working for more responsiveness to the needs of families in public policies. He was especially active working on taxation issues and fighting tobacco use; and

Whereas, Another characteristic of Doug Carl’s style as a lawmaker was his strong communication within his district and constituent service. Indeed, all aspects of his public life were marked by his passion for making government respond to the will of the people. His tenacity on policy issues, however, was balanced by a graciousness toward fellow legislators and staff that was above partisanship or pettiness. His friends on both sides of the political aisle share in their loss and their sympathies to his beloved family; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body offer this expression of our highest tribute as a memorial for the Honorable Doug Carl; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to Senator Carl’s wife, Maria, their daughter, Colleen, and family as evidence of our deepest condolences.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted by a unanimous standing vote.

Reps. Rhead, Whyman, Perricone, McNutt, Middaugh, Middleton, Bodem, Llewellyn, Hammerstrom and Cassis, having reserved the right to explain their protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

I voted no on House Bill 5038 because I do not believe that any employee (private or public) should be allowed to retire at any age less than 50 years old. HB 5038 allows such employees to retire with full pension benefits.

HB 5038 also offers additional pension benefits to a select group of mental health employees in excess to long standing agreements between the Legislature and the labor organizations. I believe it is not fair to offer these employees better pension benefits than were offered to other mental health employees who were effected by site closings. I would have considered support of the bill until the Rhead amendment failed and the Bogardus amendment was adopted.”

By unanimous consent the House returned to the order of

House Resolution No. 141.

A resolution commemorating the 30th Anniversary of Wayne County Community College.

Whereas, It is with great respect for the role this outstanding college has played in educating our citizens that we join with the people of Wayne County in marking the 30th anniversary of the founding of Wayne County Community College. On behalf of the countless students and families who have been touched by the work that has taken place here, we offer our thanks and congratulations in reaching this milestone; and

Whereas, Few activities draw more attention and pressure than those that take place in a school. In seeking to prepare students for the world of work, challenge, and responsibility, our schools are, in reality, an extension of a community's hope and concern for the future. This is no small task. To achieve its lofty goals, an institution like Wayne County Community College must be focused and unified. Wayne County Community College has attained its reputation for effectiveness through the hard work and sacrifice of teachers, staff, and public officials who have worked together over the past 30 years; and

Whereas, Much has changed since Wayne County Community College first opened its doors in 1969. The students who fill the classrooms now face a world in which change takes place even faster. While they utilize tools to help them learn what their grandparents could never have imagined, they will need many of the same skills of generations past. These skills include the ability to think clearly, to make decisions based on reason, and to accept the responsibilities. In this way, the impact that Wayne County Community College has had over the years will only grow stronger; and

Whereas, Wayne County Community College has completed an impressive 30 years of uninterrupted operations and development of comprehensive educational services. Both directly and indirectly, our students and the 2.3 million people living within the college's campuses have enjoyed the benefits of constantly improved instructional programs and community services. Today, the college has a rich and diverse student population. Eighty-five percent of the students are Michigan residents and citizens from more than 30 countries are enrolled in programs; and

Whereas, When the doors opened in 1969, students previously excluded for various reasons from higher educational opportunities found a home at Wayne County Community College. Since its founding, graduates of the college have had a profound impact on the professional, political and technical life of cities in Wayne County and the State of Michigan. College alumni hold positions such as teachers, dentists, journalists, nurses, law enforcement officers, and a variety of other positions. Approximately 400,000 students have graduated since 1969. In 1995, more than 600 students who graduated transferred to four year colleges; and

Whereas, Wayne County Community College has provided access to higher education at five campuses for everyone interested in self-advancement, which has contributed to the economic improvement of Southeastern Michigan. Today, Wayne County Community College has about 18,000 students per year in 1400 classes per semester. Wayne County Community College's mission to be an affordable, comprehensive and contemporary institution has been a monumental contribution to Wayne County; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That members of this legislative body commend all of the devoted educators, students, and staff who have contributed to Wayne County Community College's growth in excellence; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Wayne County Community College upon the occasion of its 30th anniversary.

Pending the reference of the resolution to a committee,

Rep. Gagliardi moved that Rule 77 be suspended and the resolution be considered at this time.

The motion prevailed, 3/5 of the members present voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

Reps. Kaza, Goschka, Lowe, Cropsey, Walberg, Green, Kukuk, Horton, Rocca, McBryde, Jaye, Jansen, Gernaat and Llewellyn offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 142.

A resolution to memorialize the President and the Congress of the United States to oppose religious persecution in the People's Republic of China and to oppose extending Most Favorite Nation status and access to the World Trade Organization to the People's Republic of China.

Whereas, Religious liberty is a universal right; and

Whereas, Evangelical Protestants and Roman Catholics in the People's Republic of China have been named "a principal threat to political stability"; and

Whereas, Premier Li Peng has ordered Chinese government departments to "step up the control of religious affairs" and stated that religion "should serve the aims of socialism"; and

Whereas, There are more documented cases of Christians being imprisoned or detained in Communist China on the basis of their religious beliefs than in any other country of the world; and

Whereas, Millions of Michigan Christians pray in their churches each week, oblivious to the fact that Christians in Communist China suffer brutal torture, arrest, imprisonment, and even death. Many homes and communities laid to waste for no reason other than the residents are Christians; and

Whereas, The Vatican condemns the detention, arrest, jailing, and abuse of Catholics in China by refusing to recognize the legitimacy of the government of the People's Republic of China; and

Whereas, In January 1996, the National Association of Evangelicals issued a Statement of Conscience and a Call to Action, declaring that United States' policies could be "dramatically effective" in "protecting the rights of all religious disasters"; and

Whereas, Throughout the People's Republic of China, churches and religious texts are destroyed by government agents, and Christians are regularly jailed; and

Whereas, The police of the People's Republic of China have painted anti-religious slogans on public walls in town squares; and

Whereas, In three separate incidents of abuse in the People's Republic of China, three Christian leaders were beaten to death by the agents of the People's Republic of China simply for their religious activities; and

Whereas, In Zhejiang Province alone, 15,000 religious sites were destroyed in the first months of 1996; and

Whereas, In the spring of 1996, the government of the People's Republic of China banned a Catholic pilgrimage to Donglu in the Hebel Province and closed down the underground church seminary; and

Whereas, In spite of this oppression, a great religious revival has swept Communist China in the past two decades; and

Whereas, The police of the People's Republic of China have arrested about 80 underground religious organizers in Lichuan, in the Jiangxi Province; and

Whereas, Millions of Chinese Christians must attend religious services in underground "house churches" to avoid detention and possible imprisonment because of their faith; and

Whereas, Scores of Chinese Christian leaders, including Catholic bishops, languish in jail, and many more are in hiding; and

Whereas, The police of the People's Republic of China arrested 30-40 Christians in the Jiangxi Province to prevent them from holding Easter celebration; and

Whereas, The United States government has not paid sufficient attention to the persecution of Christians in Communist China; and

Whereas, Catholic and Protestant church leaders in Communist China, as well as ordinary believers, are regularly being arrested, beaten, and fined; and

Whereas, The Department of State's annual report on the People's Republic of China stated that "the government continued to commit widespread and well-documented human rights abuses, in violation of internationally accepted norms . . . (and) continued severe restrictions on the freedom of . . . religion"; and

Whereas, The United States of America, since its founding, has been a harbor of refuge and freedom to worship for believers from John Winthrop to Roger Williams to William Penn. Our nation has been a haven for the oppressed and has guaranteed freedom of worship in this country for people of all faiths; now, therefore be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we memorialize the President and the United States Congress to review Article 18 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which states that:

Everyone has the right to freedom of thought and conscience and this right extends to the freedom to change religion or belief, and freedom, either alone or in community with others, and in public or private, to manifest religion or belief in teaching, practice and observance.

We urge our national leaders to remember the comments of Secretary of State Albright during the first meeting of the Department of State's Advisory Committee on Religious Freedom Abroad on February 13, 1997, emphasizing that "religious freedom belongs squarely in any comprehensive discussion of foreign policy," which includes all discussion regarding the granting of the coveted Most Favored Nation status to the People's Republic of China; and be it further

Resolved, That the House unequivocally condemns the egregious human rights abuses and denials of religious liberty to Christians and other persecuted religious believers in Communist China and calls upon Communist China to end that persecution; and be it further

Resolved, That the House demands the immediate release of all imprisoned religious prisoners of conscience; and be it further

Resolved, That the House memorializes the United States Congress to refuse to extend Most Favored Nation status to the People's Republic of China; and be it further

Resolved, That the House memorializes the United States Congress to oppose the accession of the People's Republic of China into the World Trade Organization; and be it further

Resolved, That the House reaffirms its commitment to Michigan's historic devotion to the principles of religious liberty; and be it further

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Michigan House of Representatives transmit copies of this resolution to representatives of the government of the People's Republic of China, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the members of the Michigan congressional delegation, the United Nations Human Rights Commission, the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, the United States Catholic Conference, the Permanent Observer of the Holy See to the United Nations, the Cardinal Kung Foundation, Secretary of State Madeleine Albright, Freedom House, Amnesty International, and the World Evangelical Fellowship.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on House Oversight and Ethics.
