Senator Jim Berryman of the 17th District offered the following invocation:

When I asked to do the prayer, I did not know that it would be in the memory of three high school students from my hometown. On Thanksgiving evening, Lyndi Bailey, Lenzee Ries and Tory Clark were killed in an automobile accident—through no fault of drugs or alcohol. It was solely being in the wrong place at the wrong time. It's a tragedy, but an accident. I have three families, two high schools—Sand Creek and Adrian—that are asking the question of why. The loss of anyone is hard to accept, but the loss of a child is devastating.

May the comfort of one's faith in God help the families of Lyndi, Lenzee and Tory get through this difficult time, and may God's love help heal the pain that the students of Sand Creek and Adrian High Schools feel so deeply. This is the time when friends, family and prayers are so important. That is why I ask my colleagues to remember these children in your prayers.

Statements

Senator Peters moved that he be permitted to submit a statement in writing for inclusion in today's Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Peters' statement is as follows:

I would like you to join me today in recognizing school superintendents, principals, and business officials from the 14th District who have participated in NetDay. As you may know, NetDay is a grassroots project where volunteers go into schools to install wiring so that schools can connect to the Internet. Wiring schools to the Internet can improve our schools by giving our children more educational resources and opportunities. Teachers who have used computers in their classrooms have reported dramatic improvements in student performance.

My guests today include: Superintendent Dr. Sam Abram, Pontiac; Superintendent Dr. Alexander Bailey, Oak Park; Donna Dulaney, Principal, Lebaron Elementary; Constance Ewing, Principal, Franklin Elementary; Alicia Copola, Principal, Twain Elementary; Iraidia Garcia, Principal, Frost Elementary; William Hardy, Principal Roosevelt Middle School; Michel Elkas, Telecom Technicians Inc.; Tom Hart, Ameritech; Karen Casman, Microsoft; and Paul Radding, Software Services Corporation. Principal Barry Rubin of Alcott Elementary in Pontiac could not be with us this morning, but will be sending you an e-mail explaining the NetDay effort at his school.

The schools and businesses represented here today have worked closely with my office to sponsor various NetDay efforts across the 14th District. Among other things, educators and parents helped to coordinate logistics and volunteers, while sponsors and businesses provided the expertise and hardware needed for Internet connections. By working together, our NetDay efforts have been a success.

The next national NetDay will be Saturday, March 28, 1998. Attached you will find a NetDay information packet. Please feel free to use my office as a resource if you decide to organize NetDay projects for schools in your district. You will also find on your desk some items that are the compliments of the businesses represented here this morning.

My guests today recognize the importance of computers and the value of the Internet in the classroom. They were willing to donate their time and resources to install Internet hookups and give students more opportunities to learn the skills they will need later on in their education and in their jobs. Thank you for helping me recognize their commitment to our children and their future.
