Reps. Brater, Hood, Kilpatrick, Middaugh, McBryde, Hanley, Schroer, DeHart, Wojno, Hale, Dobronski, Martinez, Gubow, LaForge, Freeman, London, Profit, Dalman, Goschka, Godchaux, Tesanovich, Parks, Gilmer, Cassis, Cherry, Kelly, Scott, Brackenridge, Jellema, Rocca, Baird, Murphy, Schermesser, Voorhees, Bogardus, Galloway, Richner, Vaughn, Scranton and Gire offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 158.

A resolution to honor the Residential College of the University of Michigan upon the occasion of its Thirtieth Anniversary.

Whereas, It is a distinct privilege to honor the Residential College of the University of Michigan as it celebrates its thirtieth anniversary October 23-26, 1997; and

Whereas, In 1961, Theodore Newcomb, University of Michigan Professor of Psychology, proposed that students' educational experience should entail not only their acquisition of academic skills and knowledge, but also their development of intellectual values, tolerance for new ideas, intellectual curiosity, and enhanced aesthetic sensitivities; and

Whereas, Professor Newcomb suggested the creation of what would become known as a “living-learning community,” a residential unit that would nurture students' academic development beyond the classroom. As conceived, the architectural and aesthetic unit would include its own library, academic buildings, residence halls, dining commons, and athletic buildings; and

Whereas, Residential College students, as a selected group, are likely to be interested in a nonconformist style of education. The College also attracts faculty who wish to explore new teaching techniques and who have a positive sense of community and strong goals as a unit of the LS&A; and

Whereas, The Residential College preserves the intimacy and flexibility of a small liberal arts college while sharing the resources of a major university, with a focus on critical thinking, analysis, and interdisciplinary understanding; and

Whereas, Residential College students engage in an intensive language program and also are immersed in an extensive arts curriculum, yielding a well-rounded liberal arts education; and

Whereas, The Residential College, starting out as an infant in the education industry, has developed its own strong identity that is involved with the University as a whole. The College serves as an example of how living-learning experiences can work for students and is now exploring ways to expand on these experiences; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the Michigan House of Representatives congratulates the Residential College of the University of Michigan, upon the occasion of its thirtieth anniversary; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Residential College of the University of Michigan as evidence of our esteem.

Pending the reference of the resolution to a committee,

Rep. Gagliardi moved that Rule 77 be suspended and the resolution be considered at this time.

The motion prevailed, 3/5 of the members present voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

Communications from State Officers

The following communication from Central Michigan University was received and read:

September 12, 1997

Central Michigan University's 1996-97 Financial Report is presented on behalf of the university's Board of Trustees. The report, audited by Andrews Hooper & Pavlik P.L.C., shows revenues and expenditures for the various programs maintained by the university. It also shows the financial condition of the various funds.

As we near a new century, CMU is undertaking a number of initiatives that will prepare our students to contribute to the well-being of the state. We have completed a significant reorganization of our academic programs in order to highlight our strengths in the health fields, business, education and human services, the sciences and technology, communication and the arts, and the liberal arts and social sciences. We have invested in technology that will aid in the learning process, and we continue to emphasize the importance of community service throughout the college experience. In addition, we remain committed to our innovative guaranteed four-year degree program for students interested in ensuring that they'll earn their undergraduate degrees on time.

The 1996-97 year also saw the completion of a new music building, increases in funding for student scholarships and financial aid, an emphasis on excellent student services, outreach to the community and state through educational and other initiatives, and a focus on relevant student and faculty research benefiting Michigan. The university's strong faculty built upon their reputation for quality, personalized teaching, and our students gained work experience through internships, volunteer work, and hands-on research.

Central Michigan University continues to be a good steward of state funds and student tuition dollars. These efforts were recently recognized by U.S. News and World Report when it listed CMU as the only Michigan university ranked for operating efficiency, reflecting a combination of quality and the level of funding spent to achieve it. This recognition is especially significant to us given our ongoing efforts to emphasize quality education at the same time we manage both our valuable state resources and costs to students. The people of Michigan and their elected officials continue to give higher education a high priority, which is greatly appreciated.

Kim Ellertson
Vice President, Business and Finance
Leonard E. Plachta
President

The communication was referred to the Clerk.

The following communication from the Department of Consumer and Industry Services was received and read:

October 15, 1997

As Director of the Department of Consumer and Industry Services, I take great pleasure in forwarding to you the third legislative report as required by statute on the activities and the progress of survey and remonumentation in the State of Michigan.

Public Act 345, 1990 created the Survey and Remonumentation Commission and P.A. 346 provided the funding for the function of survey and remonumentation. Since the original Commission was appointed in June, 1991 a statewide Model County Plan for county remonumentation has been developed, Administrative Rules for Act 345 have been promulgated by the Department and adopted by the Legislature, and $20 million in grants has been made available to all 83 counties in the State of Michigan.

Details of these activities are included in the enclosed report. If you have any questions regarding the survey and remonumentation program, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,
Kathleen M. Wilbur
