Senators A. Smith, Murphy and Dingell entered the Senate Chamber.

Senator Jaye asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Jaye's statement is as follows:

Just as there are seasons in Michigan of winter, spring, summer, and fall each year, there are also seasons in the Michigan Legislature, cycles of events that legislators, staff, and others in and outside state government experience each year.

Just as predictably as the Michigan snow melts and is replaced by green grass on the Capitol lawn, buds on the trees, and flowers, the state of Michigan has new budget bills that come before the Legislature. And as a result of hard work and research by my staff, central staff, and suggestions from taxpayers across Michigan, each spring during the budget season, I offer many, many budget amendments. I understand that the large number of Jaye budget amendments have been a source of irritation, weariness, and occasionally aggravation for many of my fellow legislators, both in the State House and now the State Senate, particularly the chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Senator Harry Gast. Therefore, last week many were particularly impressed by the character and class exhibited by my colleague, Senator Gast, who put aside all the previous aggravations and bedevilment that I caused with various budget amendments. The Appropriations Committee chairman Harry Gast spoke in favor of a Jaye budget amendment which I offered last week.

So, as I promised last week that I would provide the same consideration that the former State Representative Margaret O'Connor provided to the former House Appropriations Committee chairman Dominic Jacobetti, when Representative Margaret O'Connor was able to get her first major budget amendment passed 11 years ago, which was a big kiss. But especially for Senator Harry Gast—Harry, perhaps you could join me up here for a moment—I am a little more shy than Margaret O'Connor, so I've got something else. Especially for my colleague and friend, Senator Harry Gast, the venerable and esteemed chair of the Senate Appropriations Committee, whose kind words of support made my budget amendment a unanimous success, I present to him the biggest kiss of all!

The following communication was received:
State Court Administrative Office

March 16, 2000

Please find enclosed the 1999 Annual Grievance Report to the Legislature, supplemented by the 1999 Citizen Advisory Committee Report to the Legislature.

Michigan law provides a grievance process for Friend of the Court constituents who wish to address concerns about office operations or employees. Using a form developed by the State Court Administrative Office (see Attachment A), constituents describe their problem or concern and request resolution. The Friend of the Court is required investigate and respond to each grievance. If the constituent is not satisfied with the response, they may request review by the chief circuit judge. At any time during the proceedings, the constituent may file a grievance regarding office operations with the appropriate local citizens advisory committee (see attachment B for the statute describing the grievance process).

In addition to preparing this Annual Grievance Report, the State Court Administrative Office's Friend of the Court Bureau regularly responds to constituent concerns, provides technical assistance to citizen advisory committees, and provides education regarding the functions of circuit courts and friend of the court offices. Educational efforts have included providing litigants with information about the statutory grievance process and providing educational information to citizen advisory committees, as well as providing general information about how Michigan's Friend of the Court system functions.

We appreciate your consideration, and welcome your suggestions or questions with respect to the grievance procedure, the Annual Grievance Report to the Legislature, or its supplement, the Citizen Advisory Committee Report to the Legislature.

Sincerely,
John D. Ferry, Jr.
State Court Administrator

General Orders

The motion prevailed, and the President, Lieutenant Governor Posthumus, designated Senator Gougeon as Chairperson.

After some time spent therein, the Committee arose; and, the Assistant President pro tempore, Senator Hoffman, having assumed the Chair, the Committee reported back to the Senate, favorably and without amendment, the following bill:

Senate Bill No. 1172, entitled

A bill to amend 1967 PA 150, entitled "Michigan military act," by repealing section 421 (MCL 32.821).

The bill was placed on the order of Third Reading of Bills.

The President, Lieutenant Governor Posthumus, resumed the Chair.

Resolutions

Senator Young offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 151.

A resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States to consider a temporary suspension of a portion of the federal gas tax.

Whereas, After an extended period of stability in the world market, oil prices have escalated significantly in the past several weeks. The sharp rises in per barrel costs, which ripple through virtually all aspects of the economy, have already driven gasoline costs to record levels. Predictions for prices in the near term are for even more increases, possibly to per gallon levels nearly twice those of last summer; and

Whereas, At the root of the increases are actions by the cartel of oil-producing nations. Production levels are being tightly controlled by the OPEC membership, and efforts to return stability to oil supplies by permitting increased production have been frustrating; and

Whereas, The impact of the artificial imbalance being brought to curb oil production levels is perhaps the most serious threat to the strong economy in the United States and many other countries. While rising fuel costs are most readily apparent at the gas pump, oil costs have a major impact on heating costs, virtually all agricultural production, and every aspect of the economy; and

Whereas, As the politics of oil production levels is working its course, steps need to be taken to bring swift relief to the economy. While long-term moves to alternative energy sources and stepped-up domestic production offer the best solution to this problem, there are temporary measures that ought to be explored fully. At a time when our federal government is running a budget surplus, suspending some portion of the federal gas tax, for example, can bring immediate price relief. In addition to the positive financial impact, this action would send the message to our own citizens and OPEC members that our country is committed to stability in energy pricing; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That we memorialize the Congress of the United States to consider a temporary suspension of a portion of the federal gas tax; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

Pending the order that, under rule 3.204, the resolution be referred to the Committee on Government Operations, Senator Rogers moved that the rule be suspended.

The motion prevailed, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

Senator Rogers moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Finance.

The motion prevailed.

Senators Goschka and Jaye were named co-sponsors of the resolution.

By unanimous consent the Senate proceeded to the order of Statements

Senators Gougeon and Jaye asked and were granted unanimous consent to make statements and moved that the statements be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Gougeon's statement is as follows:

I wanted to bring your attention this morning to a report released yesterday from the Michigan Hospital Association. Before I get into this report, I would just like to comment that all the hospitals that I have in my district—and I have many—and all the hospitals that you have in your districts—and you have many—are considered by all of us to be the crown jewels of our communities. Each of us would do anything we could to preserve the operational ability and the integrity of our hospitals. I'm no exception to that.

Mr. President, the last two years, as chair of the subcommittee on appropriations for community health, I've traveled this state, and I've visited a number of hospitals directly. I've also met with groups of hospital CEOs and CFOs. I'm well aware of the concerns that the Senators in this chamber have about their own hospitals. They've been brought to my attention. And in many cases, on their behalf, I've visited with those hospitals. I've visited with some of the biggest hospitals in the city of Detroit—the Detroit Medical Center. I've spent time with their CFOs, and I've also visited with some of the smallest hospitals in the state of Michigan. Without exception, each of these is the most important they can possibly be to their communities. I couldn't agree more.

Now this Michigan Hospital Association report has done what I consider a very thorough job of examining the status of Michigan hospitals, and it indicates within this report that there's been some $5.6 billion cut from Medicare in hospitals in this state. It also decries the cuts in Medicaid funding. We've considered all that in our subcommittee, and I want the colleagues to know here on the floor that I'm sympathetic to those views. We've examined them. I've worked with the Senate Fiscal Agency to try to analyze them, but you should also know before you feel some guilt for the words in this report that this body ten years ago was financing Medicaid to the point of $2.7 billion. Today we finance it to the point of $5.2 billion. That's an 87 percent increase in Medicaid expenditures through appropriations from this body in just a ten-year period.

Now this report also indicates that $5.6 billion has been cut from Medicare and that underfunding in the state of Michigan for Medicaid amounts to $127 million. I think everybody in this body is aware that our subcommittee is totally focused on increasing funding for Michigan's hospitals and doctors far above the $127 million level. Our subcommittee has increased the expenditures not only for doctors and hospitals, 11 percent and 4 percent, but we've also increased the disproportionate share lately being the amount of money of $19 million to add to $45 million from the Rogers amendment.

So we have focused. In fact, our budget this year has been totally focused on doctors and hospitals. I have to say that I'm disappointed that none of that is listed in this report. What is listed in this report is their concern about the 11 percent increase in administrative costs. Today I call on the hospitals to work with me to reduce that by agreeing to Senate Bill No. 938. That is, the billing provisions in Senate Bill No. 938 on covered services. They've disagreed with those billing provisions in the Senate, and they continue to disagree with them in the House. If I had more time, I would explain the degree of that disagreement, but suffice it to say, I call for their support to working with me to solve these high administrative costs.

Senator Jaye's statement is as follows:

No amendment, no piece of legislation can pass without bipartisan cooperation, and particularly in the Senate, I've learned that individual relationships mean more than a political party. And it is very rare, in fact, it's impossible for an amendment to be adopted unanimously without the cooperation of the other side of the aisle. I hope I have an opportunity—Senator Smith I hope you'll join me—to provide a very rare recognition of a bipartisan cooperation. In addition to Senator Harry Gast's kind words of encouragement, I was also very privileged to have a member from the other aisle, one of the ranking members of the Senate Appropriations Committee, to also speak on behalf of the Jaye amendment. So I've got a spring bouquet for the flower from Ann Arbor, Senator Alma Wheeler Smith. Thank you for your kind support.

By unanimous consent the Senate returned to the order of
