We ask that the power of Your spirit would descend on this place and fill us with wisdom so that the decisions we make and the choices we make will be pleasing to You. Bless each one of us, we pray. The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

Rep. Patterson moved to substitute (H-3) the resolution.

Substitute for House Resolution No. 23

A resolution to express legislative intent that the Department of Natural Resources should strive to acquire land in the Keweenaw Peninsula.

Whereas, Over the past few years, discussions have taken place between private landowners, private companies, and officials of the Department of Natural Resources concerning parcels of property at the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula; and

Whereas, As the DNR studies possible land exchanges between private landowners, private companies, and the state, ascertaining the true value of the lands in question is essential. This evaluation must weigh more than economic criteria alone. Potential exchanges would impact forest, wildlife, and recreational resources for many years. A central concern is any influence that the exchange could have on the environment; and

Whereas, While we respect and encourage the sentiments of those hesitant to relinquish state-managed lands, many of which are rich in timber, other parcels of land in the Keweenaw Peninsula offer unique qualities the state should protect. Currently, the state does not manage these parcels that are among the most dramatic and beautiful areas in our state. The parcels include miles of beautiful Lake Superior shoreline, waterfalls, wildlife, and vistas unsurpassed as attractions for recreation. It would be a shame to lose these gifts for future generations of our citizens. Clearly, any exchanges should be made with a commitment to fairness and an eye to protection of unique resources; and

Whereas, After considerable discussion, including proposals for a trade of certain lands, the state recently approved purchase of a specific parcel of land at the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula. With the passage of Enrolled Senate Bill No. 291, the state will purchase nearly 6,000 acres at the eastern end of the peninsula. This purchase is an excellent example of policies the state should pursue. This land includes 3 beautiful lakes, 5 miles along the Montreal River, and 6 miles of Lake Superior shoreline. Gaining this unique property for future generations—without giving up other valuable acreage—will greatly benefit our state far into the future; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we express legislative intent that the Department of Natural Resources should continually strive to acquire and preserve land in the Keweenaw Peninsula. We urge that the DNR weigh carefully the impact on the state's timber reserves; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Natural Resources Commission and the Department of Natural Resources.

The motion prevailed and the substitute (H-3) was adopted, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

The Speaker laid before the House

House Concurrent Resolution No. 4.

A concurrent resolution to express legislative intent that the Department of Natural Resources should strive to acquire land in the Keweenaw Peninsula.

(For text of resolution, see House Journal No. 7, p. 97.)

(The concurrent resolution was reported by the Committee on Conservation and Outdoor Recreation on October 4, with substitute (H-2), consideration of which, under the rules, was postponed until today.)

(For substitute, see House Journal No. 66, p. 1994.)

The question being on the adoption of the proposed substitute (H-2) recommended by the Committee,

The substitute (H-2) was not adopted, a majority of the members serving not voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the concurrent resolution,

Rep. Patterson moved to substitute (H-3) the concurrent resolution.

Substitute for House Concurrent Resolution No. 4

Messages from the Senate

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 30.

A concurrent resolution to create a commission to review all aspects of public school academies in Michigan.

Whereas, Since the enactment of enabling legislation in 1993, public school academies (PSAs) have exerted a major impact on the landscape of public education throughout Michigan. These public schools, which are located throughout the state and serve a wide range of communities, provide K-12 education in settings large and small and with supervision from numerous sources from both within Michigan and elsewhere; and

Whereas, Although there have been studies on the impact and effectiveness of public school academies, there is a great need for a thorough, unbiased examination at this time. With data now compiled and with the difficult challenges now facing our state, Michigan is at a turning point in how it educates its citizens. Only with completely objective and comprehensive information can policymakers make informed decisions at this critical juncture; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That there be created a commission to conduct a complete and objective review of all aspects of public school academies in Michigan. The commission shall be comprised of 8 members and shall be chaired by Michigan State University President Peter McPherson. The remaining 7 members shall include the Superintendent of Public Instruction, one member appointed by the Senate Majority Leader, one member appointed by the Senate Minority Leader, one member appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, one member appointed by the House Minority Leader, and two appointed by the Governor. The commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the Michigan Legislature; and be it further

Resolved, That the expenses for the commission will be shared equally by the Senate and the House of Representatives; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor, Michigan State University President McPherson, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The Senate has adopted the concurrent resolution.

Pending the reference of the concurrent resolution to a committee,

Rep. Patterson moved that Rule 77 be suspended and the concurrent resolution be considered at this time.

The motion prevailed, 3/5 of the members present voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the concurrent resolution,

The concurrent resolution was adopted.

By unanimous consent the House returned to the order of

Motions and Resolutions

Rep. Vear moved to discharge the Committee on Tax Policy from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 433 and motion postponed temporarily on July 12, see House Journal No. 60, p. 1787.

(For first notice see House Journal No. 59, p. 1633.)

The question being on the motion made previously by Rep. Vear,

Rep. Vear withdrew the motion.

Rep. Patterson moved that House Committees be given leave to meet during the balance of today's session.

The motion prevailed.

Reps. Anderson, Richardville, Adamini, Rich Brown, Gielegem, Woodward, Quarles, Bovin, Pappageorge, Patterson, Woronchak, Allen, Hager, Gilbert, Ehardt, Mortimer and Raczkowski offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 213.

A resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States, the Department of Defense, and the Department of State to increase efforts to account fully for American military personnel missing in action in southeast Asia.

Whereas, One of the most difficult aspects of the losses and sacrifices associated with military service during war is the heartbreak caused by those who are missing in action. Families and friends of those lost in war endure years and decades of the unique pain of not knowing a loved one's fate, which makes healing or any sense of peace almost impossible to know; and

Whereas, The protracted and complex American military involvement in southeast Asia resulted in a large number of personnel reported missing in action. While considerable progress has been made in resolving many of these cases and in returning remains where possible, there are still hundreds—perhaps nearly 2,000—Americans unaccounted for in Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos, and nearby countries; and

Whereas, Just as these patriots made a commitment to serve our nation, our country has a moral commitment to work to find and return home America's MIAs. Our nation cannot abandon the men and women who have served us overseas during times of conflict. Carrying out the work of accounting for each person is important not only to the families of these individuals, but also to the citizens of our country today. This work is especially significant for our young people, who must learn and never forget the high price of our liberty and the true meaning of loyalty to our ideals and to one another; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we memorialize the Congress of the United States, the Department of Defense, and the Department of State to increase efforts to account fully for American military personnel missing in action in southeast Asia; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the members of the Michigan congressional delegation, the Department of Defense, and the United States Department of State.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Veterans Affairs.

Reps. Clarke, Daniels, Lemmons, Hansen, Sheltroun, Adamini, Richardville, DeVuyst, Lockwood, Wojno, Lipsey, Kilpatrick, Whitmer, Jacobs, Spade, Minore, Kolb, Gielegem, Anderson, Bernero, Waters, Neumann, Switalski, Jamnick, Ehardt, Mans, Thomas, McConico, Zelenko, Woodward, Hardman, Clark, Hale, Schauer, Murphy and Rich Brown offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 214.

A resolution to urge the Department of Consumer and Industry Services to determine the feasibility of implementing a supplemental unemployment benefit program for displaced airlines workers.

Whereas, The terrible events of September 11, 2001, have shaken the people of our country more than any single event in decades. While the immediate impact of thousands of fatalities and the loss of our national sense of safety are beyond measure, there are other very specific and devastating effects being felt throughout our economy; and

Whereas, The aching tragedy of the losses from the terrorist attacks has been compounded for tens of thousands of American workers in the airline industry. Air traffic has, relatively speaking, come to a standstill, with massive layoffs and several major carriers struggling to avoid bankruptcy. Industry analysts speculate that the impact of the slowdown in air travel will linger for the foreseeable future; and

Whereas, In many ways, the workers who have lost their jobs because of the hijackings and crashes are also victims of the horrible attack. Their families now face difficulties that have been caused by what President Bush and other leaders have likened to acts of war. Just as the federal government is looking for ways to lessen the economic strain, Michigan should do all it can to help those now in need; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we urge the Department of Consumer and Industry Services to determine the feasibility of implementing a supplemental unemployment benefit program for displaced airlines workers. We urge the department's Unemployment Agency to examine this idea and report its findings as soon as possible; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Department of Consumer and Industry Services and the Unemployment Agency.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Employment Relations, Training and Safety.

Reps. McConico, Daniels, Lemmons, Hansen, Adamini, DeVuyst, Meyer, Lockwood, Wojno, Lipsey, Kilpatrick, Whitmer, Jacobs, Minore, Kolb, Gielegem, Waters, Neumann, Switalski, Jamnick, Plakas, Thomas, Zelenko, Hardman, Clark, Dennis, Hale, Murphy and Rich Brown offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 215.

A resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States to amend certain provisions of the Temporary Assistance to Needy Families and the Food Stamp programs.

Whereas, The 1996 enactment of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act heralded many changes in our national approach to helping people in need. The former concept of welfare was, in large measure, replaced by Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF), which greatly restricted benefits and required work or training for the able bodied. The eligibility for the Food Stamp program was also tightened considerably; and

Whereas, While the new changes have included worthwhile incentives and while the number of people on assistance has been significantly reduced, the true value of the changes has yet to be made clear. For almost the entire time since the 1996 act became law, our country enjoyed a remarkable prosperity and abundant job growth. With opportunities plentiful, the full effects of the restrictions on eligibility for help were masked. Now, however, as the national economy faces much more difficult times, the toll on individuals and families is becoming a source of serious concern; and

Whereas, As our country copes with a faltering economy and plummeting consumer confidence, the impact of such policies as the 5-year limit for TANF benefits is apparent, as is the growing need for the help of food stamps. Jobs that used to be there are gone. Indeed, the most dramatic examples of this hard reality are the 50,000 jobs lost immediately with the devastation of the World Trade Center, a major source of employment for able-bodied workers. Many of those displaced are immigrant workers now facing terrible difficulties without services through the federal and state programs; and

Whereas, As the reauthorization legislation for TANF takes shape and Food Stamps are considered, this compassionate nation needs to reevaluate its commitment to the less fortunate among us and convert our values to public policy; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we memorialize the Congress of the United States to amend the provisions of the Temporary Assistance to Needy Families that restrict eligibility to 60 months and to recognize that many with jobs need supplemental benefits. We also ask that food stamp eligibility requirements be reconsidered for able-bodied adults and immigrants; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Family and Children Services.

Reps. Sanborn, Raczkowski, Daniels, Howell, Julian, Frank, Lemmons, Faunce, Hansen, Sheltroun, Garza, Pappageorge, Richardville, Shulman, DeVuyst, Meyer, Van Woerkom, Bradstreet, Voorhees, Vander Veen, Toy, Mead, Lockwood, Caul, Wojno, Lipsey, Kilpatrick, Whitmer, Koetje, Middaugh, Jacobs, Spade, Minore, Kolb, Gielegem, Anderson, Bernero, Waters, Vander Roest, Woronchak, Jelinek, DeRossett, Neumann, Kooiman, Switalski, Jamnick, Ehardt, Jansen, Cassis, Mans, Zelenko, Drolet, Woodward, Hardman, Hager, Scranton, Hale, Schauer, Murphy, Rich Brown, Kowall, Bishop, Birkholz and George offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 216.

A resolution commemorating October 14-20, 2001, as International Credit Union Week and October 18, 2001, as International Credit Union Day in Michigan.

Whereas, The vitality and stability of Michigan's economy is important to ensure continued business growth, expanded employment opportunities, and improved financial security for the people of this state. Credit unions were created as cooperative, not-for-profit financial institutions committed to the economic improvement of their membership; and

Whereas, The state of Michigan is home to 474 credit unions with a membership in excess of 4.3 million members, which represents approximately 40% of the state's population. The credit union movement continues to provide its Michigan members access to affordable and reliable financial services, as well as the opportunity to be a member-owner, not "just a customer"; and

Whereas, Credit union professionals, staff, and volunteers are active and committed to the communities in which they serve. The credit union's mission of "people helping people" is, and will continue to be, the foundation of their success; and

Whereas, During the week of October 14-20, 2001, credit unions throughout the world will be celebrating 76 years of providing competent financial service in a democratic and cooperative manner to citizens of both our Great Lakes state and the world; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body commemorate October 14-20, 2001, as International Credit Union Week and October 18, 2001, as International Credit Union Day in Michigan, encourage all citizens to recognize the many contributions credit unions have made to the communities in this state, both tangible and intangible, through the years, and honor and express our appreciation for the service and commitment of Michigan's credit unions.

Rep. Patterson moved that Rule 77 be suspended and the resolution be considered at this time.

The motion prevailed, 3/5 of the members present voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

House Resolution No. 217.

A resolution commemorating October 2001 as Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease Awareness Month.

Whereas, Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD) is a progressive disease of the airways leading to a gradual loss of lung function. COPD includes chronic bronchitis, emphysema, or a combination of these conditions. The symptoms of COPD range from chronic cough to an increased effort to breathe and severe disabling shortness of breath; and

Whereas, COPD is a life-threatening disease, ranking as the fourth leading cause of death at a worldwide, national, and Michigan level. Estimates indicate that more than 766,337 Michigan residents suffer from COPD, and that Michigan has the eighth largest number of incidences of COPD; and

Whereas, COPD is an under-diagnosed and under-treated disease, resulting in suboptimal or no treatment for millions of American and thousands of Michigan citizens. Proper treatment plans can provide significant relief from the debilitating symptoms of COPD; and

Whereas, A public awareness campaign is needed to bring attention to COPD and to provide an opportunity for citizens to learn more about this dreadful disease and treatments to relieve its burden; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body commemorate October 2001 as Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease Awareness Month.

Pending the reference of the resolution to a committee,

Rep. Patterson moved that Rule 77 be suspended and the resolution be considered at this time.

The motion prevailed, 3/5 of the members present voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Reps. Richardville, Raczkowski, Anderson, Adamini, Rich Brown, Gielegem, Woodward, Quarles, Bovin, Patterson, Woronchak, Allen, Gilbert, Hager, Ehardt and Mortimer offered the following concurrent resolution:

House Concurrent Resolution No. 43.

A concurrent resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States, the Department of Defense, and the Department of State to increase efforts to account fully for American military personnel missing in action in southeast Asia.

Whereas, One of the most difficult aspects of the losses and sacrifices associated with military service during war is the heartbreak caused by those who are missing in action. Families and friends of those lost in war endure years and decades of the unique pain of not knowing a loved one's fate, which makes healing or any sense of peace almost impossible to know; and

Whereas, The protracted and complex American military involvement in southeast Asia resulted in a large number of personnel reported missing in action. While considerable progress has been made in resolving many of these cases and in returning remains where possible, there are still hundreds—perhaps nearly 2,000—Americans unaccounted for in Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos, and nearby countries; and

Whereas, Just as these patriots made a commitment to serve our nation, our country has a moral commitment to work to find and return home America's MIAs. Our nation cannot abandon the men and women who have served us overseas during times of conflict. Carrying out the work of accounting for each person is important not only to the families of these individuals, but also to the citizens of our country today. This work is especially significant for our young people, who must learn and never forget the high price of our liberty and the true meaning of loyalty to our ideals and to one another; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That we memorialize the Congress of the United States, the Department of Defense, and the Department of State to increase efforts to account fully for American military personnel missing in action in southeast Asia; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the members of the Michigan congressional delegation, the Department of Defense, and the United States Department of State.

The concurrent resolution was referred to the Committee on Veterans Affairs.
