Senator George A. McManus, Jr., of the 36th District offered the following invocation:

Let us pray this prayer this morning to kind of help us through this particular time during this session. It's a prayer from Mother Teresa, which she kept engraved on the wall of her home for children in Calcutta:

"People are often unreasonable, illogical, and self-centered; forgive them anyway.

If you are kind, people may accuse you of selfish, ulterior motives; be kind anyway.

If you are successful, you will win some false friends and some true enemies; succeed anyway.

If you are honest and frank, people may cheat you; be honest and frank anyway.

What you spend years building, someone could destroy overnight; build it anyway.

If you find serenity and happiness, they may be jealous; be happy anyway.

The good you do today people will often forget tomorrow; do good anyway.

Give the world the best you have, and it may never be enough; give the world your best anyway.

You see, in the final analysis, it is between you and God; it was never between you and them anyway."

Amen.

Senator Shugars entered the Senate Chamber.

Sec. 3. The secretary of state shall prepare a map and a legal description of each district constituted under this act. The legal description shall be in terms of political subdivisions, such as counties, cities, and townships; man-made features, such as streets, roads, highways, and railroads; and natural features, such as waterways, which political subdivisions and man-made and natural features form the boundaries of the district. The secretary of state shall convey the map and legal description of each district to the legislature and the governor.

Sec. 4. The secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives shall transmit a report of the conference committee explaining this act to the secretary of state for filing with the office of the great seal.

Sec. 5. All of the following apply to the redistricting plans in sections 1 and 2:

(a) In adopting the redistricting plans for the house of representatives and the senate, it is the intention of the legislature to comply fully with sections 1 and 1a of 1996 PA 463, MCL 4.261 and 4.261a.

(b) The number of county breaks in the redistricting plans is determined by the following principles:

(i) Breaking a county line means assigning part of the population of a county to 1 or more counties in the formation of a district.

(ii) If population is shifted from a county to a single election district, including a district from 2 geographically-separate whole cities or whole townships, there is 1 break. Except as provided in subparagraph (iii), if population from a county is shifted to 2 or more election districts, there are 2 or more breaks.

(iii) If 1 part of a county is shifted to a district and the rest of the county is shifted to another district, there is 1 break.

(c) The number of municipal breaks in the redistricting plans is determined by the following principles:

(i) Breaking a municipal line means assigning part of the population of a municipality to 1 or more municipalities or counties in the formation of a district.

(ii) If population is shifted from a municipality to a single election district, there is 1 break. Except as provided in subparagraph (iii), if population from a municipality is shifted to 2 or more election districts, there are 2 or more breaks.

(iii) If 1 part of a municipality is shifted to a district and the rest of the municipality is shifted to another district, there is 1 break.

(iv) If the boundary of a city, which is located in more than 1 county, is broken in order to preserve a county boundary, that does not count as a municipal break.

(d) The redistricting plans were designed to comply fully with both section 2 of the voting rights act of 1965, Public Law 89-110, 42 U.S.C. 1973, and the requirements of the equal protection clause of amendment XIV of the constitution of the United States, as set forth in Shaw v Reno, 509 US 630 (1993), and subsequent cases concerning racial gerrymandering. In light of these dual obligations, the plans avoid any practice or district lines that result in the denial of any racial or ethnic group's equal opportunity to elect a representative of its choice and, at the same time, does not subordinate traditional redistricting principles for the purpose of accomplishing a racial gerrymander or creating a majority-minority district. As a consequence, the plans do not result in retrogression or dilution of minority voting strength, particularly in light of the demographic limitations caused by relative population losses and the neutral criteria set forth in section 1 of 1996 PA 463, MCL 4.261. However, the plans do not sacrifice traditional neutral principles, such as, most importantly, the Michigan constitutional principles of preservation of county and municipal boundaries, for the purpose of engaging in a gerrymander that unnecessarily favors 1 racial group over others.

(e) The plans further the underlying purpose of the state constitution of 1963 by facilitating effective representation in the legislature where elected representatives can advance the shared interests of unified municipalities or counties. They do so without sacrificing voting rights act of 1965 principles, equal electoral opportunities, or racial fairness.

(f) The redistricting plan for the house of representatives consists of 110 single member districts comprised of convenient territories contiguous by land. All of the following apply to the plan:

(i) The districts range in size between 85,861 and 94,823 residents.

(ii) The number of breaks in county boundaries is 17.

(iii) The number of breaks in city and township lines is 18.

(iv) The cities of Detroit and Grand Rapids each contain more than 1 whole district.

(v) The range of population divergence between whole districts within the city of Detroit is 167 and within the city of Grand Rapids is 245.

(vi) The number of whole cities and townships shifted to form a district with residents of another county is 57.

(vii) The number of residents shifted in the cities and townships described in subparagraph (vi) is 364,727.

(g) The redistricting plan for the senate consists of 38 single member districts comprised of convenient territories contiguous by land. All of the following apply to the senate plan:

(i) The districts range in size between 248,635 and 274,578 residents.

(ii) The number of breaks in county boundaries is 6.

(iii) There are 3 city or township line breaks.

(iv) The city of Detroit contains more than 1 whole district.

(v) The range of population divergence between whole districts within the city of Detroit is 619.

(vi) The number of whole cities and townships shifted to form a district with residents of another county is 26.

(vii) The number of residents shifted in the cities and townships described in subparagraph (vi) is 274,180.

Sec. 6. As used in this act:

(a) "Block" means block as that term is used by the United States department of commerce, bureau of the census in conducting the 2000 decennial census.

(b) "Tract" means tract as that term is used by the United States department of commerce, bureau of the census in conducting the 2000 decennial census.

Second: That the House and Senate agree to the title of the bill to read as follows:

Protests

Senators Cherry, DeBeaussaert and Byrum, under their constitutional right of protest (Art. 4, Sec. 18), protested against the adoption of the second conference report on House Bill No. 4965.

Senator Cherry moved that the statements he made during the discussion of the conference report be printed as his reasons for voting “no.”

The motion prevailed.

Senator Cherry’s first statement is as follows:

I do appreciate the report being read because I only saw it at 9 o’clock this morning, and in this very rapid, contracted process, I didn’t get the chance to read it. But I’m now getting a chance to hear it, so it’s a value to hear this reading.

But, Mr. President, what I rise for is to urge a “no” vote on the conference report. Mr. President, my opposition to the report—the conference report—stems from the process, really, that led to the adoption of the bill by the House, adoption of the bill by the Senate, the subsequent adoption of the first conference report by the House, and the subsequent—today—second conference report before us.

You know, Mr. President, this all kind of really came to the forefront on March 28 of this year when the Majority Leader and the Senator from the 35th District issued a press release stating that there would be “public hearings across Michigan this summer with the goal of passing a redistricting plan in the fall”—across Michigan. I think that is the breadth of Michigan—from the Lake Huron shoreline to the Lake Michigan shoreline, from Lake Superior to the Michigan/Ohio border—but we haven’t seen across Michigan. I think of the fall as generally commencing in September and the summer being an opportunity from June through August to go out to the breadth of Michigan and get public testimony.

But there were no public hearings across the state, only hearings in Lansing. The only effort to solicit public opinion was a comment period that was announced prior to committee action. In fact, after people did respond, minority members were given no opportunity to review public comments until just prior to being asked to vote in committee—to the extent that majority members had an opportunity to review public comments. If you look at the product, it appeared that the comments were largely ignored.

Mr. President, during the process on a number of occasions, the Senator from the 35th District made the point with great fanfare that the best plan under the criteria must be adopted. He argued that because he claimed the criteria prevented gerrymandering, but when, in fact, presented with a best plan, Mr. President, the body did not adopt it here in the Senate. In fact, a number of times during the process, the majority party altered the interpretation of the Apol Standards to extract themselves from the embarrassment of adopting the best plan which wasn’t theirs. And when changing the interpretation of the Apol Standards did not work, they simply added additional criteria to the redistricting bill, which they accomplished by amendment by reference, which in the normal course of business, we simply do not allow.

Mr. President, in the final analysis, no one really understood the rules the majority party was using to grade various redistricting plans. In fact, it was even humorous at times to witness those occasions when the majority party did not agree among themselves how to interpret the Apol Standards. What is being suggested today is that now we have before us the best plan. But my guess, though, is now that the definition cannot change anymore, now the criteria can no longer be added. It will not be long before someone steps forward with a better plan. Unfortunately, because the process that was announced on March 28 was not followed, because the process is so rushed, and because the opportunity for public input is so constrained, the only opportunity individuals will have to present plans in a meaningful way will be through court action.

Of course, as we hear this morning, the majority plan argues that none of that’s the case. They will argue that the adoption of this conference report will bring to an end the most exhaustive and meaningful public process to have unfolded in all the history of mankind. To underscore that point, they’ve adopted—and I’m now reading—“a special report of the conference committee.” This is a report, Mr. President, which is little more than a political fairytale put forward to mask a process that was not exhaustive. It did not reach out for public input. It did not apply the Apol criteria in a fair, determinative fashion.

I would urge a “no” vote, Mr. President.

Senator Cherry’s second statement is as follows:

After listening here, it’s become apparent to me why we’re being asked to adopt this conference report. We need this redistricting plan so the majority party’s got more members so they’ve got sufficient number of people to read in these special reports. But you know, quite frankly, Mr. President, I just soon suspend rules and allow you to read them in with one member, and then we could forget the adoption of the conference report. The other option here is we could go back and hire former Senator Jack Faxon as the official reader. He could probably do the whole report in five minutes.

But, Mr. President, it’s obvious that this report is an important foundation for the majority party’s case. The report—remember this is the second report; there are two reports—this tale of two reports, kind of underscores the problem.

We have the committee adopting a first report with the first conference committee, which said that this is the best plan—the best plan. Then at 10 o'clock last night, the Senator from the 35th asked us to get up and reject the conference report because, apparently, the report wasn't the best plan. So what makes us think that this report that says this is the best plan is any more accurate than the plan before? Whose guess, really?

Mr. President, it's little more than a political fairytale. But even with this reading and even with the brief period of time that we've had to review the so-called special report of the conference committee on House Bill 4965, which was only made public this morning, it has become apparent that this document is inaccurate, incomplete, and does not offer real support for the Senate redistricting plan which has been offered by the majority party.

In 1982 and in 1992, the Supreme Court established 12 separate standards, now known as the Apol Criteria, for developing redistricting plans. This special report claims that these criteria were adopted, essentially without change by the Legislature in 1996. That simply isn't true. In 1996, reapportionment legislation which was enacted with virtually no input from the members of my party, omits several of the Apol Criteria. Gone is the requirement that where you have two plans with the same number of county breaks and municipal shifts, the one that shifts the fewest people statewide must be selected. Gone is the selection priority given plans which emphasize compactness when drawing municipal districts. Also gone is the mandate where two plans have the same number of city and township breaks within a county, the plan that minimizes population divergence across the county is to be selected.

It is fairly obvious that the majority's special report of the conference committee on House Bill 4965 is nothing more than a self-serving, inaccurate description of the history and law of reapportionment in the state of Michigan. It includes criteria that benefits Republican Party candidates and omits criteria that does not. In short, the report does not provide a good faith explanation for the bill which we have before us. More importantly, Mr. President, the special committee report states without explanation that this latest plan complies with the Voting Rights Act. However, any substantive analysis cannot be conducted in a matter of 24 hours. I do not believe that a determination can be made by this body at this time that these plans comply with the Voting Rights Act.

Mr. President, what I find even more disturbing is that the report states that the methodology be used in determining the number of county breaks as established by the Supreme Court and communicated to Bernie Apol set forth in publicly available correspondence between the Supreme Court and Mr. Apol. However, when my staff contacted the clerk of the Supreme Court, we were told that the documents were more than likely private communications between the court and Mr. Apol, and they would not be released. In fact, we were told that all they would guarantee we would see was the public record kept by the court, which consisted primarily of briefs submitted by both parties.

Mr. President, I appreciate the time and effort being spent reading this report, but quite frankly, its accuracy, its value, does not—does not—withhold the effort that's being expended to read it. It's simply a political fairytale. I urge a “no” vote on the conference report.

Senators DeBeaussaert and Byrum moved that they be permitted to submit, in writing, their reasons for voting “no” for inclusion in a subsequent Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senators Schuette, McCotter, Sikkema, Hoffman and Bennett asked and were granted unanimous consent to make statements and moved that the statements be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Schuette's statement is as follows:

I would urge adoption of this conference report, and we've had lengthy discussion and debate on this over the past month. And as I said, I urge adoption of this conference report. During the last decade, and I do want to read and make special mention of the special report of the second conference committee on House Bill 4965 because it really spells out and captures the redistricting process in Michigan, which is a very narrow runway and path which adheres to federal Voting Rights Act provisions and adheres to the Apol Standards which are very important and to which we adhere.

During the last decade—I'm reading from the special report—Michigan's population grew by 643,147 people, an increase of approximately 7 percent, and significant demographic shifts occurred in the state. Perhaps the most significant of these shifts were the continued loss of population in the city of Detroit and certain inner-suburban areas. Detroit alone lost over 75,000 people. At the same time, the outer suburbs of the Detroit metropolitan area and much of the northern Lower Peninsula experienced significant growth. Due to these changes, state legislative districts for the next decade must change as well. Based on Michigan's population of 9,938,444, the ideal size of each Senate district is 261,538, and the ideal size of each House district is 90,349.

House Bill 4965 establishes new electoral districts for the Michigan Senate and House of Representatives. This report explains House Bill 4965 and is the report referenced in section 4 of that bill.

Some background—the requirements of the Constitution of 1963. The Michigan Constitution of 1963 originally assigned the responsibility for redistricting the Senate and the House of Representatives to a bipartisan, eight-member Commission on Reapportionment. The major political parties were each authorized to appoint four members of the commission. The commission was required to convene within 30 days after each decennial census was released and to complete a redistricting plan within 180 days thereafter. In the event of a deadlock among the commission members, proposed redistricting plans were to be submitted to the Supreme Court, which was directed by the Constitution to select the plan that most accurately complied with redistricting requirements set forth in the Constitution. The Supreme Court was also given original jurisdiction to review any final plan adopted by the Commission on Reapportionment and to remand any such plan to the commission for further action if it failed to comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Redistricting rules under the 1963 Constitution. The 1963 Constitution established the following rules to be followed by the Commission on Reapportionment: The Senate was to consist of 38 single-member districts. Apportionment of the Senate was to be on the basis of 80 percent weight given to population and 20 percent weight given to area. Counties were to be the basic building blocks of senatorial districts. Counties were to be combined to form districts that were compact, convenient, and contiguous by land. In counties large enough to be entitled to two or more senatorial districts, districts were to be drawn along city and township boundary lines, to the extent possible, and were required to be compact and to consist of contiguous territory.

The 1963 Constitution required the House of Representatives to consist of 110 single-member districts, consisting of compact and convenient territory contiguous by land. Each county having a population of not less than seven-tenths of 1 percent of the state's population was to constitute a separate representative district. Counties having less than seven-tenths of 1 percent of the state's population were to be combined with another county or counties to form a district of not less than seven-tenths of 1 percent of the state's population. Within counties large enough to be entitled to two or more representative districts, districts were to be drawn along city and township boundary lines where applicable.

Now what I have given is in the five-minute period of time consideration. Senator McCotter will be following me in a moment and going through the remainder of this text, and I know there will be other opportunities for me speak.

Senator McCotter's statement is as follows:

Shortly after the adoption of the 1963 Constitution, the United States Supreme Court issued its decision in Reynolds v Sims, 377 US 533 (1969), which required districts in both houses of a state legislature to be substantially equal in population within each house. Thereafter, in a brief order, the United States Supreme Court invalidated the weighted land area/population formula contained in the Michigan Constitution.

The Commission on Reapportionment continued to function, although it was unable to agree upon plans in 1964, 1972, and 1982. In 1964 and 1972, the Supreme Court selected from plans submitted by individual commission members but without closely examining what remained of the constitutionally-established redistricting system after the United States Supreme Court's decision in Reynolds v Sims, 377 US 533 (1969). This changed in the 1982 redistricting cycle.

After being formally notified in 1982 of the commission's inability to agree upon a plan, the Supreme Court issued an order requiring the parties before it to file briefs addressing two questions: (1) whether the redistricting authority of the Commission on Reapportionment and the Supreme Court itself remained in effect after the invalidation of land area/population formula, and (2) what standards govern redistricting.

After considering the arguments of the parties before it, the Supreme Court, in summary, held as follows: (1) The weighted land area/population formula invalidated by Reynolds v Sims and the remaining redistricting rules in the 1963 Constitution were inextricably interdependent and therefore not severable. (2) The functioning of the Commission on Reapportionment was dependent on the constitutional redistricting rules. Upon the invalidation of certain of those rules, it became impossible for the commission to continue functioning. (3) Certain of the redistricting rules set forth in the 1963 Constitution remained effective after the invalidation of the weighted land area/population formula. In order of constitutional priority they are as follows: (a) All districts are required to be single-member districts contiguous by land; (b) Districts in both the House and Senate are to be organized on the basis of county lines; (c) In counties entitled to more than one Senator or Representative, districts should be drawn to the extent practical or applicable along city and township boundary lines and shall be as compact as possible.

The Supreme Court went on to note that Michigan has a long history of respecting political subdivision boundaries when drawing legislative districts, dating back to the Northwest Ordinance of 1787, and this policy has been voiced in every Michigan constitution adopted since that date. The court also stated that the principle of compactness is subordinate to the criterion that city and township boundaries be followed, but because cities and townships themselves are generally compact, following boundaries will usually lead to relatively compact districts. The court also observed that "the goal of compactness seeks to avoid gerrymandering and is not an end in itself. Districting solely to achieve population equality 'may be little more than an open invitation to partisan gerrymandering'."

The overall effect of the Supreme Court's 1982 redistricting decision was to return the responsibility of drawing legislative districts to the Legislature to be exercised within the constraints of the remaining constitutional criteria. However, because the 1982 General Election was only months away, the court appointed former state elections director Bernard J. Apol to draft a redistricting plan for the court's consideration in the event that the Legislature did not adopt a plan by the deadline set by the court.

The Supreme Court provided Mr. Apol with detailed criteria incorporating the remaining valid constitutional policies such as preservation of county, city, and township boundaries. The Supreme Court's criteria also provided Mr. Apol with strict rules governing the methodology for drawing districts and the criteria for selecting the best plan. The principal author of the Supreme Court's criteria, Justice Levin, explained in a concurring opinion that the criteria were designed to establish an "objective and neutral" methodology for redistricting which "leaves little room for the exercise of discretion."

After the Legislature failed in the 1991 redistricting cycle to adopt a plan, the Supreme Court once again directed the utilization of the criteria and methodology it had originally provided to Mr. Apol. Both the Democratic and Republican Parties filed briefs with the Supreme Court at that time endorsing the use of that criteria.

Senator Sikkema's statement is as follows:

I rise to urge adoption of the conference report.

In 1996, the Legislature enacted the Supreme Court's criteria—which has come to be known as the "Apol Criteria"—as the criteria to be utilized by the Legislature in the redistricting of the Senate and House of Representatives. The criteria were adopted essentially without change, except that the maximum allowable population deviation between districts was changed from 16.4 percent to 10 percent. Federal courts have established a rule that state legislative redistricting plans are presumptively valid if the maximum deviation is less than 10 percent. In Reynolds v Sims, the Supreme Court held that the Equal Protection Clause requires states to "make an honest and good faith effort to construct districts...as nearly of equal population as is practicable..." though deviations for other legitimate state objectives such as "maintaining the integrity of various political subdivisions" may be necessary. Reynolds v Sims, 377 US 533, 577-578 (1964). Importantly, the statutory criteria also expressly require adherence to section 2 of the federal Voting Rights Act.

The statutory redistricting criteria are set forth in 1996 P.A. No. 463, MCL 4.261 et seq. They are provisions set forth in the special report. Section 1a. Senate and House districts shall not violate section 2 of title I of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, Public Law 89-110, 42 U.S.C. 1973.

Criteria related to certain factors such as preserving county and municipal boundary lines are constitutionally-based. Other criteria such as political subdivision and population shifts are solely based on statute. Compliance with section 2 of the Voting Rights Act is an absolute requirement. Also an absolute requirement is that all districts must be within plus or minus 5 percent of the ideal district size. After that, the criteria are listed above.

In determining the number of county breaks in a proposed plan, the conference committee utilized the same methodology that the Supreme Court directed Mr. Apol to use in 1982. This methodology is set forth in publicly available correspondence between the Supreme Court and Mr. Apol and in footnote 7 of the concurring opinion of Justices Levin and Fitzgerald in the 1982 redistricting case, In Re Apportionment-1982, 413 Mich 96, 155, n.7. That methodology is as follows: Breaking a county line means assigning part of the population of a county to one or more counties in the formation of a district. If population is shifted from a county to a single election district—even if it comes from two geographically-separate whole cities or townships—that counts as one break. However, if population from that county is shifted to two or more election districts, that counts as two or more breaks. A subsidiary rule (an exception) is that if one part of a county is shifted to one district and all the rest of the county is shifted to another district, that counts as one break.

The number of municipal breaks was determined by essentially the same methodology:

1. Breaking a municipal line means assigning part of the population of a municipality to one or more municipalities or counties in the formation of a district.
2. If population is shifted from a municipality to a single election district, that counts as one break. However, if population from that municipality is shifted to two or more election districts, that counts as two or more breaks.
3. A subsidiary rule (an exception) is that if one part of a municipality is shifted to one district and all the rest of the municipality is shifted to another district, that counts as one break.
4. If the boundary of a city which is located in more than one county is broken in order to preserve a county boundary, that does not count as a municipal break.

Senator Hoffman's statement is as follows:

The effect of the statutory redistricting criteria. The criteria enacted by the Legislature were originally designed by the Supreme Court to effectuate federal and state constitutional requirements and to provide a politically neutral method of drawing legislative districts. The criteria prevent political gerrymandering by minimizing discretionary decision-making opportunities. A plan drafted in a good faith effort to comply with the criteria will be a politically fair plan in which districts are determined on the basis of demographics and geography, not politics.

Legislative history. Census data became available in Michigan on March 28, 2001. Creation of a redistricting plan requires 2000 Census population data and 2000 Census geography, known as TIGER/Line files. All of this data has been made publicly available by both the Michigan Information Center and the United States Census Bureau from the date it was received by the state. Interested citizens and members of the Legislature have had since that date the opportunity to draft redistricting plans consistent with the statutory criteria.

On June 8, 2001, the Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the House announced the likelihood that redistricting legislation would be taken up before the summer recess. They asked that proposed plans and comments be submitted to the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives not later than June 18, 2001. On June 20, 2001, that deadline was extended to June 25, 2001.

The House Committee on Redistricting and Elections held a public hearing on June 19, 2001. After entertaining public comment, the committee reported House Bill 4965 with substitute (H-1) to the floor. On June 21, 2001, the House passed House Bill 4965, with House substitute (H-5).

In the Senate, House Bill 4965 was referred to the Senate Committee on Reapportionment. The Senate Committee on Reapportionment held a public hearing on June 26, 2001. After entertaining public comment, House Bill 4965 was favorably reported with substitute (S-1) to the Senate floor.

On June 28, 2001, the House of Representatives non-concurred in Senate substitute (S-1).

On the floor of the House of Representatives and the Senate, competing plans and amendments were introduced.

A conference committee was convened because there were differences between the House and Senate versions of House Bill 4965. That conference committee met on July 10, 2001, and issued a conference report.

On July 11, 2001, the Senate non-concurred in the report of the conference committee. On July 12, 2001, this second conference committee was convened.

The second conference committee recommendations. The plan we recommend for the House of Representatives consists of 110 single-member districts comprised of convenient territories contiguous by land. In the House of Representatives plan: the districts range in size between 85,861 and 94,792; the number of breaks in county boundaries is 17; the number of breaks in city and township lines is 18; the cities of Detroit and Grand Rapids contain more than one whole district; the number of whole cities and townships shifted to form a district with people from another county is 57; and the number of people shifted in those cities or townships is 364,727. Of the plans that have been before the Legislature, this plan is the plan most in compliance with the Michigan constitutional principles of preservation of county and municipal boundaries and the statutory redistricting criteria.

The plan we recommend for the Senate consists of 38 single-member districts comprised of convenient territories contiguous by land. In the Senate plan: the districts range in size between 248,635 and 274,578; the number of breaks in county boundaries is 6; the number of breaks in city and township lines is 3; the city of Detroit contains more than one whole Senate district; the number of whole cities and townships shifted to form a district with people from another county is 26; and the number of people shifted in those cities or townships is 274,180.

Senator Bennett's statement is as follows:

Of the plans that have been before the Legislature, this plan is the plan most in compliance with the Michigan constitutional principles of preservation of county and municipal boundaries and the statutory redistricting criteria.

Voting rights act considerations. This districting plan we recommend was designed to comply fully with both section 2 of the Voting Rights Act and the requirements of the 14th Amendment's equal protection clause, as set forth in Shaw v Reno, 509 US 630 (1993), and subsequent cases concerning racial gerrymandering. Aware of these dual obligations, the plan avoids any district lines which result in the denial of any racial or ethnic group's equal opportunity to elect a representative of their choice and, at the same time, does not subordinate traditional redistricting principles for the purpose of accomplishing a racial gerrymander or creating a majority-minority district, particularly in light of the demographic limitations caused by relative population losses and the neutral criteria set forth in MCL 4.261. On the other hand, the plan does not sacrifice traditional neutral principles such as, most importantly, preservation of county and municipal boundaries, for the purpose of engaging in a gerrymander that unnecessarily favors one racial group over others.

The plan furthers the underlying purpose of the State Constitution by facilitating effective representation in the Legislature where elected representatives can advance the shared interests of unified municipalities or counties. It does so without sacrificing Voting Rights Act principles, equal electoral opportunities, or racial fairness.

Maps and demographic statistics. Attached to this report are maps of the recommended plans for the House of Representatives and the Senate as well as demographic statistics relative to each district.

12:42 p.m.

The Senate was called to order by the President, Lieutenant Governor Posthumus.

Senator Van Regenmorter asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Van Regenmorter's statement is as follows:

I'd like to bring to the members' attention a man who has served us faithfully. His name is Paul Krepps. Paul has worked for the last six years for the Senate Majority Communications Staff. He's one of those quiet, friendly people who just is very, very effective and puts in a long day's work every day. He's someone who I think can be genuinely described as a truly nice person. As often happens to good and fine people, he is moving up. He's moving up to do public relations with MEDC, and I know that my colleagues will join me in wishing Paul Krepps the very best in his new position.

Senator Emmons moved that the rules be suspended and that the following bills, now on the order of Third Reading of Bills, be placed on their immediate passage at the head of the Third Reading of Bills calendar:

House Bill No. 4939

Protests

Senators Byrum, Hart and Cherry, under their constitutional right of protest (Art. 4, Sec. 18), protested against the passage of House Bill No. 4940.

Senators Byrum and Cherry moved that the statements they made during the discussion of the bill be printed as their reasons for voting “no.”

The motion prevailed.

Senator Byrum’s statement, in which Senator Hart concurred, is as follows:

I, too, stand in opposition to House Bill No. 4940 for all of the same reasons that Senator Cherry has just articulated.

When we take a look at what we are really doing, you have to ask yourself a couple of questions. First of all, we need to start with why the rush and why are we doing it right now? It probably would be very prudent if we would stand back and take a longer look at this before we rush to our judgment. But it also occurred to me as much as we want to support the history in the arts—and those are all wonderful programs in Michigan that enrich our souls, and we are all very supportive of highlighting their profile—but when it comes to the state library, we also have to be honest and understand the only reason the state library is part of this package is because they need the infrastructure, the administrative structure, within the state library in order to create this new department.

The end result is that we are placing it in the executive branch, and we always run the risk of it becoming a more partisan control of information. Controlling information is controlling power, and in a term-limited legislature, I think we need to be very concerned about that. Our power has been significantly diminished because of term limits, because of the lack of institutional memory. We run the risk by making this transfer of only increasing our diminished powers. From a policy standpoint, I just believe in my heart that it's the wrong thing to do. We should not be doing this, and I would urge my colleagues to vote "no."

Senator Cherry's statement, in which Senator Byrum concurred, is as follows:

I rise in opposition to House Bill No. 4940.

Obviously, I think there's a great deal of value in what the Governor is trying to do in bringing emphasis to culture and the arts by the creation of this department. I think we ought to pause a moment and remember why the state library is under the jurisdiction of the Legislature. It's because for a number of years when the state library was under a department, it languished. It was not funded appropriately. Its facilities were less than adequate. It really was a poor example of a state library.

A state Senator whom I have a great deal of personal respect for, Senator Bill Faust, attempted to rectify that situation by bringing the state Library of Michigan under the jurisdiction of the Legislature, and over the years, the state library did a complete turnaround. It's now an institution that we can be extremely proud of. It is the flagship of a network of libraries throughout the state. It is an institution that has had a renaissance. That has been because of the foresight that Senator Faust had when he introduced and got adopted legislation that brought the library under the jurisdiction of the Legislature.

Today, to take the state library out of the jurisdiction of the Legislature, I think ignores the historical lessons that we've learned and did learn when the library was under the jurisdiction of a state department. It's ironic that we would choose to ignore that history by putting the library under the department of history.

I would ask members to pause a moment and ask themselves why Bill Faust knew the state library had to be under the jurisdiction of the Legislature. If you think about that and understand what he did, I think you'll understand why it would be a great mistake to now move the library from the jurisdiction of the Legislature to a state department.

I would urge a "no" vote on the bill.

By unanimous consent the Senate returned to consideration of the following bill:

House Bill No. 4939, entitled

A bill to amend 1984 PA 431, entitled "The management and budget act," by amending sections 114, 219, and 251 (MCL 18.1114, 18.1219, and 18.1251), section 114 as amended by 1990 PA 332 and sections 219 and 251 as amended by 1999 PA 8.

A concurrent resolution to urge the United States Department of the Interior and the United States Geographic Names Information System to record the name of a certain man-made lake in Lapeer County.

(For text of resolution, see Senate Journal No. 56, p. 907.)

The House of Representatives has adopted the concurrent resolution and named Reps. Vander Roest, Lemmons, Stewart, Vander Veen, Julian, Cassis, Ehardt, Mead, Zelenko, Jacobs, Middaugh, Van Woerkom, Gielegem, Birkholz, Neumann, Bishop, Toy, Phillips, Switalski and Waters as co-sponsors of the concurrent resolution.

The concurrent resolution was referred to the Secretary for record.

Recess

Senator Emmons moved that the Senate recess subject to the call of the President.

The motion prevailed, the time being 1:34 p.m.

1:41 p.m.

The Senate was called to order by the President pro tempore, Senator Schwarz.

Protest

Pursuant to rule 3.506, Senator Smith submitted her reasons, in writing, for voting "no" on the adoption of House Concurrent Resolution 34 on July 11.

Senator Smith's statement is as follows:

I voted "no" on final passage of House Concurrent Resolution No. 34 because it is yet another effort to evade the strictures of the 1999 Congressional Redistricting Act. The terms of that act are clear. They should have been followed by this Legislature. Instead, they were amended by reference and ignored by the Republican majority when drawing the new congressional map for the state of Michigan.

The resolution's reference to Good v. Austin, the federal court's 1992 decision establishing the congressional districts for the last decade, is telling. That court expressly stated that "political fairness," the "retention of the geographic and population cores of existing districts," and the "maintenance of cultural, social, and economic communities of interest" were essential criteria for Michigan's congressional redistricting. Yet when Democrats have complained that the map in SB 546 is politically biased, they have been told that political fairness is not a relevant criterion. When residents of districts that are being torn to bits by the new plan have complained that the cores of existing districts should be preserved, they have been told that old district cores are not a relevant factor. And when members of cultural, social, and economic communities of interest—such as the leaders of the Downriver community who attempted to testify at yesterday's House hearing—have complained that the new plan tears asunder their communities, they have been told, in the words of one Republican leader, that "communities of interest" may be a relevant criterion in New York, but not here in Michigan.

In short, the Republicans drew the map they wanted—in order to satisfy their purely partisan concerns—and then continually reinterpreted the law to "match" their preferred map. That is not the rule of law. It is the rule of power. And it is an abuse of power.

Finally, the suggestion in HCR 34 that SB 546 was the result of an orderly and open process is a complete fiction. In fact, the Republican majority's rush to produce this bill while giving the public the least possible access to its particulars led to the charade of having identical versions of the bill—including a flatly illegal, noncontiguous district—pass both chambers, only to have the House ask the Senate to send the bill back, so that the discontiguity could be fixed. This kind of mess could have been averted by a reasonable, open, deliberative process—but that is precisely what the majority refused to give to the people of our state. The majority's congressional-redistricting plan was the biased result of a biased process. I therefore voted "no" on HCR 34.

Senator Emmons moved that the Senate adjourn.

The motion prevailed, the time being 1:42 p.m.

Pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 29, the President pro tempore, Senator Schwarz, declared the Senate adjourned until Wednesday, September 19, at 10:00 a.m.

CAROL MOREY VIVENTI
Secretary of the Senate.
