 - Public Act 263 of 1897, which pertains to the duties of the Auditor General regarding taxes and charges on certain State land (Senate Bill 918).

Senate Bill 887 also eliminated a requirement in Public Act 329 of 1937 that the Attorney General sign and approve the compensation vouchers for peace officers injured on duty, but retained a requirement that he or she review all claims for compensation.

Under Public Act 140 of 1863, money received from the sale of certain land must be credited to the support and maintenance of Michigan State University. Senate Bill 901 replaced references to the State Board of Agriculture with references to MSU; and requires that contracts and certificates related to the care and disposition of the land be signed by the MSU treasurer, rather than the State Board of Agriculture secretary.

Senate Bill 906 requires that payments made under Public Act 232 of 1901 be made to the treasurer of the MSU board of trustees, instead of the treasurer of the State Board of Agriculture. The bill also repealed Section 5 of the Act, which required the MSU board, when considering spending any surplus funds accumulated under the Act for any building, sewer system, or heating system, to submit the plans to the State.

BACKGROUND

In the past, many statutes authorized the Auditor General to execute pay warrants, audit plats, perform duties related to property taxes, and perform many other functions. Public Act 43 of 1959 transferred the warrant functions of the Auditor General to the Department of Treasury. Further, the Executive Organization Act of 1965 transferred all of the Auditor General's powers to the Department of Treasury, except those granted in Article 4, Section 53 of the State Constitution, and abolished the office of elected auditor general.

Article 4, Section 53 of the State Constitution requires the Legislature to appoint an Auditor General, for an eight-year term. The Legislative Auditor General must conduct post audits and performance post audits of the financial transactions and accounts of the State and its departments, offices, agencies, boards, and commissions, and report at least annually to the Legislature and the Governor. Upon the direction of the Legislature, the Auditor General may employ independent accounting firms or legal counsel, and make investigations pertinent to the conduct of audits. The Auditor General "shall be assigned no duties other than those specified in this section".
