We acknowledge You as the sovereign God who truly does have our world , our country, our state and our very own lives in Your hands. As we begin our work and business today we ask for wisdom and discernment. Help each one of us here today to make decisions for the people of Michigan that are based on Your example of what is both just and right for every citizen. Help all of us to seek justice and then act accordingly. Help each of us to regard every citizen of our great state as truly an important and significant citizen and person. Before we end our prayer Father, we pray for our country and for our state. We pray that our mighty God will bring peace and quiet to our land. We pray for an end to war and terror. We thank You for the privilege and blessing of living in this beautiful country and especially in this beautiful state. Continue to bless our country and state. We offer this prayer in the name of our strong and mighty God. Amen.”

The House agreed to the title of the bill.

Rep. Rivet, having reserved the right to explain his protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House: I voted no on HB 4995 because it mandates local units amend zoning ordinances for a purpose that may or may not apply to them. This sort of mandate is concerning as the State is beginning to haphazardly determine the zoning ordinances of local units. Further, it sets a precedent that the State is going to begin to require these minor changes on an ongoing basis when they don’t always apply to locals and cost local resources to implement.”

Reps. Plakas, Murphy, Phillips and Anderson, having reserved the right to explain their protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

While I support policies that will improve protections for open space, I cannot support State policies that usurp local control over land-use planning decisions. HB 4995 usurps local control over land-use decisions and represents an unfunded mandate for townships. The State should not micro manage local land-use policy by writing amendments to local zoning ordinances.”

House Resolution No. 225.

A resolution honoring Bishop Sandy Dixon, Jr., Ph.D., on his 40th pastoral anniversary.

Whereas, The observance of the 40th anniversary of the service of Bishop Sandy Dixon, Jr., is an event of significance far beyond the reaches of Faith Temple Full Gospel Church and the community of Detroit, Michigan. In his long and devoted efforts to offer spiritual and personal guidance to others through the ministry, this dedicated and unselfish man has touched many lives through the power of faith. Gifts like these are of importance to everyone; and

Whereas, In the years since Bishop Dixon came to work with the individuals and families of the Faith Temple Full Gospel Church, the congregation has come to highly value all of the talents of this outstanding and effective spiritual leader. Bishop Dixon has dedicated much of his life to Faith Temple Gospel Church, which he founded and organized in 1961; and

Whereas, In addition to his pastorate, Bishop Dixon has taught in the Detroit public schools for more than 30 years. In 1968, he was runner-up in the Detroit News' "Favorite Teacher" contest. His educational background includes a Bachelor of Science Degree and a Master of Science Degree from the University of Detroit, along with a Doctor of Philosophy Degree from Michigan State University. His theology studies were done at the California Graduate School of Theology in Glendale, California. In the community, Bishop Dixon served as president of his Block Club and participated in the Beautiful Block and Christmas Contests where he won numerous prizes and recognition awards. He has also received several recognition certificates and awards from the city of Detroit and the state of Michigan for his outstanding service; and

Whereas, Bishop Dixon is indeed a beloved and godly pastor and an excellent teacher who serves as a model for students in these times when they need, and are inwardly longing for, positive heroes to emulate; and

Whereas, As the family and friends who have come to witness Bishop Dixon's good works can attest, the services and sermons are only part of his presence. His private help to the needy, through encouragement, prayer, or putting a person in touch with someone with the resources to help, is a true gift. Through those who have been blessed by these works, the entire community has been enriched; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body honor Bishop Sandy Dixon, Jr., Ph.D., as he celebrates his 40th pastoral anniversary. Our great state is blessed that he chose Michigan for his heavenly mission; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Bishop Sandy Dixon, Jr., Ph.D., as a symbol of our esteem.

Pending the reference of the resolution to a committee,

Rep. Patterson moved that Rule 77 be suspended and the resolution be considered at this time.

The motion prevailed, 3/5 of the members present voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

House Resolution No. 226.

A resolution honoring Mary Edmond, upon her being selected as the Joe Parker Freedom Conductor Award recipient.

Whereas, It is a pleasure to offer congratulations to Mary Edmond upon her being selected as the Joe Parker Freedom Conductor Award recipient. With the record that this talented and energetic researcher has compiled over the years, this is a most fitting symbol of excellence in an endeavor of great importance; and

Whereas, In receiving the Joe Parker Freedom Conductor Award, Mary Edmond is being singled out for her exceptional contributions to the preservation, promotion, and advancement of the Underground Railroad history and research. We applaud the dedication she has consistently displayed and offer our thanks for her leadership in preserving Michigan's important role in the Underground Railroad; now, therefore, be it

Bernero, Vander Roest, Cassis, McConico, Lemmons, DeRossett, Hager, Bishop, Richardville, Neumann, Stewart, Woronchak, Mortimer, Koetje, Julian, Raczkowski, Ehardt, Faunce, Vander Veen, Pestka, Rivet, Schauer, Wojno, Bovin, Thomas, Woodward, Bradstreet, Anderson, Lipsey, Hansen, Jacobs, Bob Brown, Adamini, Schermesser, Minore, Kolb, Jamnick, Whitmer, Dennis, Gielegheem, Clarke, Rocca, DeWeese, Pappageorge, Spade, Drolet, Mans, Scranton, Van Woerkom, Richner, Shulman, Basham, Waters, Lockwood, Hardman, Daniels, Hale, Voorhees, Toy, Zelenko, Switalski, Clark, Mead, Plakas, George, Birkholz, Gilbert, Caul, Stallworth and Murphy offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 227.

A resolution honoring the survivors of Pearl Harbor.

Whereas, It is with a shared commitment to the noble ideals of our country that we join with the membership of the Friends of Michigan History and The Military Order of the World Wars Mid-Michigan Chapter in saluting Bert Swarthout, Lt. Colonel John Wilberding, John Cole, Roman Grabowski, Miles Brickey, and the many other brave survivors of Pearl Harbor. These loyal and unselfish individuals are honored for their dedication to our country and their families. As members and friends gather to commend these patriotic survivors and remember the 60th anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor, we add our own thanks for the contributions these survivors continue to make to keep our cherished liberties alive; and

Whereas, Bert Swarthout, Lt. Col. John Wilberding, John Cole, Roman Grabowski, and Miles Brickey, veterans of the United States Armed Forces and survivors of Pearl Harbor, never stopped serving their country when their formal military duties were at a close. Deeply appreciative of the opportunities and responsibilities of citizenship in our system of self-government, these men set an example that is most admirable. This has been apparent through many aspects of their life, but most especially through their devotion to the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association and programs of the Friends of Michigan History; and

Whereas, These brave servicemen are an outstanding example of the kind of people who are not content to sit idly while others take action. Through their self-sacrifice, they made it clear that we have opportunities each and every day to put our love of country to good use in helping out our fellow citizens. We all have benefitted from the patriotism that these men of Pearl Harbor have shown; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body honor Bert Swarthout, Lt. Colonel John Wilberding, John Cole, Roman Grabowski, Miles Brickey, and the many other survivors of Pearl Harbor, as they are recognized for their excellence in service to the United States of America; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Bert Swarthout, Lt. Col. John Wilberding, John Cole, Roman Grabowski, Miles Brickey, and the many other survivors of Pearl Harbor as a token of our esteem.

Pending the reference of the resolution to a committee,

Rep. Patterson moved that Rule 77 be suspended and the resolution be considered at this time.

The motion prevailed, 3/5 of the members present voting therefor.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Reps. Middaugh, Vander Roest, Cassis, Lemmons, DeRossett, Hager, Neumann, Stewart, Mortimer, Kuipers, Julian, Raczkowski, Ehardt, Vander Veen, DeWeese, Pappageorge, Scranton, Van Woerkom, Richner, Shulman, Lockwood, Voorhees, Toy, Switalski, George and Birkholz offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 228.

A resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact the appropriate legislation to grant the President trade promotion negotiating authority.

Whereas, Everyone is deeply concerned with job creation, economic stability, and expanding economic prosperity throughout all of America; and

Whereas, The United States is the biggest player in international trade, accounting for 12.7 percent of all world exports; and

Whereas, United States exports account for about 11 percent of our Gross Domestic Product. Our country exported $1.097 trillion in goods and services in 2000, which supported 12 million jobs in the United States; and

Whereas, United States exports account for approximately one-fifth of all manufacturing jobs, while approximately one-third of all United States farmland is planted with crops for export; and

Whereas, Growth in United States exports has been responsible for about one-third of real economic growth over the last ten years; and

Whereas, Studies show that export-related jobs pay 13 to 18 percent more than the average job; and

Whereas, Many of these jobs depend upon continued access to foreign markets and increased openness of those markets; and

Whereas, The combined outcome of the NAFTA and the Uruguay Round Trade Agreement has increased United States national income by $40 billion to $60 billion a year; and

Whereas, The increased competition arising from these two agreements has resulted in savings of $1,000 to $1,300 for the average family of four; and

Whereas, Our foreign competitors are aggressively moving forward to pursue their own economic interests through their own trade agreements; and

Whereas, While the United States is involved with only 2 out of 130 globally enforced trade agreements, Western Europe is gaining ground, signing 909 bilateral investment treaties according to the World Trade Organization; and

Whereas, Without trade promotion authority, the ability of the United States to expand and open markets around the world is being seriously constrained, and United States businesses and farmers are losing market opportunities to foreign competitors; and

Whereas, From 1974-1994 every United States President has received trade promotion negotiating authority from Congress; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact the appropriate legislation to grant the President trade promotion negotiating authority; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

Middaugh, Vander Roest, Cassis, Jansen, Lemmons, DeRossett, Hager, Neumann, Stewart, Mortimer, Kuipers, Julian, Raczkowski, Ehardt, Vander Veen, DeWeese, Pappageorge, Scranton, Van Woerkom, Richner, Shulman, Lockwood, Voorhees, Toy, Switalski, George and Birkholz offered the following concurrent resolution:

House Concurrent Resolution No. 44.

A concurrent resolution to memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact the appropriate legislation to grant the President trade promotion negotiating authority.

Whereas, Everyone is deeply concerned with job creation, economic stability, and expanding economic prosperity throughout all of America; and

Whereas, The United States is the biggest player in international trade, accounting for 12.7 percent of all world exports; and

Whereas, United States exports account for about 11 percent of our Gross Domestic Product. Our country exported $1.097 trillion in goods and services in 2000, which supported 12 million jobs in the United States; and

Whereas, United States exports account for approximately one-fifth of all manufacturing jobs, while approximately one-third of all United States farmland is planted with crops for export; and

Whereas, Growth in United States exports has been responsible for about one-third of real economic growth over the last ten years; and

Whereas, Studies show that export-related jobs pay 13 to 18 percent more than the average job; and

Whereas, Many of these jobs depend upon continued access to foreign markets and increased openness of those markets; and

Whereas, The combined outcome of the NAFTA and the Uruguay Round Trade Agreement has increased United States national income by $40 billion to $60 billion a year; and

Whereas, The increased competition arising from these two agreements has resulted in savings of $1,000 to $1,300 for the average family of four; and

Whereas, Our foreign competitors are aggressively moving forward to pursue their own economic interests through their own trade agreements; and

Whereas, While the United States is involved with only 2 out of 130 globally enforced trade agreements, Western Europe is gaining ground, signing 909 bilateral investment treaties according to the World Trade Organization; and

Whereas, Without trade promotion authority, the ability of the United States to expand and open markets around the world is being seriously constrained, and United States businesses and farmers are losing market opportunities to foreign competitors; and

Whereas, From 1974-1994 every United States President has received trade promotion negotiating authority from Congress; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That we memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact the appropriate legislation to grant the President trade promotion negotiating authority; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

The concurrent resolution was referred to the Committee on Commerce.
