Senate Bill 462 (as enrolled)
Sponsor: Senator Michael Switalski
Senate Committee: Government Operations
House Committee: House Oversight, Elections, and Ethics

PUBLIC ACT 87 of 2006

Date Completed: 7-12-06

RATIONALE

Under the Michigan Election Law, a board of election inspectors may not count a write-in vote for a person unless he or she has filed a declaration of intent to be a write-in candidate. This provision was added to the Law by Public Act 461 of 1996 to relieve election workers from having to count frivolous votes, such as those for "Mickey Mouse" or for unwilling and unsuspecting people. Election officials now must count write-in votes only for individuals who appear on the official list of write-in candidates. A write-in candidate must file a declaration of intent with the filing official for the elective office by 4 p.m. on the Friday immediately preceding the election. Many local clerks, however, reportedly train election workers and generate their tally sheets during the week before the election. It was suggested that the deadline be moved up by one week.

Supporting Argument

The current Friday deadline occurs so close to the day of the election that some municipal clerks do not have sufficient time to train their election workers properly. For example, some jurisdictions provide training on the Wednesday and Thursday the week before the election. It will be helpful for election officials to know at that time the names of the write-in candidates whose votes are to be tabulated at the election. Moving the filing deadline up a week will make it easier for local clerks to fulfill their duties and improve the administration of elections.
