Pastor Ellis Smith of Jubilee City Church of Detroit offered the following invocation:

Father, we thank You for this great nation that You have called us to. We thank You for the great state of Michigan You have placed us in. As this great body of legislators and leaders in our state begin this day in caucuses and meetings in dealing with serious, critical issues that govern our state, grant them wisdom. We thank You that they are all able men and women. They are men and women who fear God. They are men and women who have the ability to not get involved in perilousness; men and women of integrity and character.

So we bless them today, and we pray even now that this denotes a time in our nation and in particular the state of Michigan. In spite of all the negative things that we go through in culture and society, there will be those who rise to the top and honor God and honor whatever the Lord says concerning our nation. We thank You for it.

In Jesus' name, we pray. Amen and Amen.

The President, Lieutenant Governor Calley, led the members of the Senate in recital of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Protest

Senator Bieda, under his constitutional right of protest (Art. 4, Sec. 18), protested against the passage of Senate Bill No. 776 and moved that the statement he made during the discussion of the bill be printed as his reasons for voting "no." The motion prevailed.

Senator Bieda's statement is as follows:

Colleagues, I rise today to offer my "no" vote explanation for Senate Bill No. 776. Once again, the majority is trying to make it more difficult for citizens to be heard. Everyone in this room knows that it's extremely challenging to overcome a rebuttal presumption, but it is possible. And that possibility, however slim, gives people a slightly better chance to get their issue on the ballot. That's their opportunity to make a change when their elected official can't or won't do it for them.

By shutting down that possibility for good, we'd be slamming the door on our constituents. But that's what this chamber is interested in, isn't it? In the past year, this chamber has opened doors to dark money. It's used legislative loopholes to referendum-proof unpopular laws. It's made it more challenging for our constituents to vote the way they want in a manner that respects their time. Let's be honest here—a "yes" vote isn't to clarify existing law; it's to halt policy changes that would make it easier to use signatures collected beyond the 180-day window.

I strongly encourage all of you to stand up for the people you represent and vote "no." It's time to make it easier, not harder, for voter issues to hit the ballot.

Protest

Senator Colbeck, under his constitutional right of protest (Art. 4, Sec. 18), protested against the passage of Senate Bill No. 696.

Senator Colbeck's statement is as follows:

I just want people to understand that, obviously, it is my intent to make sure we prosecute offenders of arson in this state, but the issue I have with this bill is that we had no testimony from any people directly impacted; in particular, the health care service providers. There is a presumption that they would actually understand whether or not someone was exposed to an accelerant or not as to the source of their burns. We had no testimony at all from anyone directly impacted either. My wife is a physician, and, in some things, you just aren't trained to go off and identify. Your focus is first, second-, or third-degree burns. You are not trained to act like a CSI detective on the scene.

With that, my concern in the overall intent of eliminating arson as a crime in our communities is definitely something I support. So, I want to make sure my "no" vote is on the record.

The following bill was read a third time:

Senate Bill No. 697, entitled

A bill to amend 1956 PA 218, entitled "The insurance code of 1956," (MCL 500.100 to 500.8302) by adding section 3011. The question being on the passage of the bill,

Statements

Senator Young asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Young's statement is as follows:

President John F. Kennedy said, "The basis of effective government is public confidence, and that confidence is endangered when ethical standards falter or appear to falter." Colleagues, the ethical standards in our state government have been faltering for quite some time.

I have stood up here and talked about the consequences of running a state like a business, providing FOIA exemptions, and treating serious crises as public relations problems. All those problems thrive when you have a pay-to-play environment. Pay-to-play politics has been steamrolling good contract policy in this state at the highest levels. Just look at the Flint water investigation.

We wanted—and still want—an independent examination of what happened in this crisis. Right now, I am not confident we're going to get it. It's bad enough that the Attorney General didn't have enough confidence in his own white-collar crime investigators he hired out. It's worse that he hired political donors to do the work instead. It is our responsibility to be skeptical and to safeguard taxpayers when people holding the highest offices in this state appoint political donors to do the state's bidding.

Attorney Todd Flood donated $10,000 to Attorney General Schuette, and now Flood and his associates are receiving a $1.5 million state contract. I am baffled as to how you can conduct an independent investigation when you've given and taken away money from the people you are supposed to be investigating. But that's not the only poor use of public funds.

Employees from the firm Warner Norcross & Judd donated almost $10,000 to Governor Snyder, and now they're receiving an $800,000 contract to defend him. That's a pretty good investment, but why are taxpayers paying legal fees for a Governor who is worth hundreds of millions of dollars? That is outrageous. This is a lot of money and money that should be helping Michiganders; money that should help Flint.

The Governor is spending more on fancy lawyers than he's spent on school nurses, targeted nurse case management services, WIC, the food bank, and food safety inspections. You know, just some serious programs that real people in this state rely on. Michiganders deserve real answers and real action from people who will be accountable to the public, not spin that's been tainted by political opportunists.

Next Tuesday, the State Administrative Board will meet to approve these contracts. I strongly encourage all of you to voice your opposition.
