I thank You for the men and women who have assembled in these chambers today to labor on behalf of the people of the great state of Michigan. I pray that You would bless and guide them as they perform their various duties today and throughout the year. I pray that through their leadership all people might have the freedom to lead quiet and peaceable lives in all godliness and dignity.

Thank You for the cross and for the opportunity for all people to know You through faith in Christ. And it is in the name of Jesus Christ I ask these things. Amen.”

House Resolution No. 24.

A resolution to declare February 19, 2017, as Japanese-American Internment Day of Remembrance in the state of Michigan.

Whereas, On February 19, 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued Executive Order 9066, authorizing the mass removal and incarceration of roughly 127,000 Japanese-Americans from the West Coast because of ancestry; and

Whereas, Japanese-American families gave up ownership of their homes, business, and assets not knowing if their property and belongings will be there when they returned; and

Whereas, Civil liberties advocates brought lawsuits against the relocation, stating it was unconstitutional but the Supreme Court refused to overturn the internment orders; and

Whereas, Japanese-Americans were released in 1945, many who returned home faced legal battles for property rights, had no financial assets, and experienced trauma from their imprisonment; and

Whereas, In 1948, the Federal Government distributed $37 million in reparations, and in 1988, the Federal Government approved legislation providing an official apology and an additional payment of $20,000 to each surviving internee; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body declare February 19, 2017, as Japanese-American Internment Day of Remembrance in the state of Michigan.
