Section 208 generally allows the secretary of state to destroy Department of State records, including those pertaining to driving history, after they have been kept for at least seven years. However, the section contains several exemptions that provide for shorter or longer retention periods for specific kinds of records. The section also generally allows the secretary of state to destroy any Department of State records that the secretary determines are obsolete and of no further use in carrying out the department's powers and duties.

MCL 257.208

FISCAL IMPACT:

The bill would not have a substantial fiscal impact on state government and would have no fiscal impact on local units of government. Any additional costs related to additional destruction of records would likely be covered under the ongoing base appropriations for the Department of State in FY 2020-21, when the bill would take effect.

POSITIONS:

The Office of the Secretary of State indicated support for the bill. (9 -10-19)

* It is unclear what effect, if any, the destruction of records regarding this offense would have on the requirement under section 319(7) of the Vehicle Code that the secretary of state suspend a person's license if he or she is convicted of transporting or possessing alcohol when underage or driving with open alcohol and has one or more prior convictions for either of those offenses.
