Fr. John P. Klein, Pastor of St. Gerard Church in Delta Township, offered the following invocation:

“God in heaven, author of life and creator of all that is good, gather with us and bless us with Your life-giving presence.

As we humbly acknowledge You and Your goodness to us and thank You for the blessings You have bestowed on us, we also call upon Your guidance and aid.

Let the light of Your divine wisdom direct the members of the House of Representatives, their staffs and all who support them. May that wisdom shine forth in all their proceedings. May they discharge their duties with honesty, integrity and a commitment to the common good.

Give them the grace to embrace their roles as privileged opportunities, not for self-gain, but for the service of the people entrusted to their care including and especially the weakest and most vulnerable.

Give them the courage to stand against the forces of evil and all that would debase human dignity and civility.

Give them the humility to listen with open hearts to Your word and to the voices of those they lead and serve including those who may oppose their views.

May they advocate without accusation, disagree without disrespect, always seeking to build bridges that unite those they serve in common purpose and in the service of the common good.

Loving God, all of us, no matter our profession or state in life, stand in awe before the responsibility entrusted to us. You have made us stewards of all You have made and all those You love. With Your help may we prove worthy of the trust You have shown us and well-serve those You have placed in our care.

All this we pray in the name of Jesus the Lord. Amen.”

Messages from the Senate

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 16.

A concurrent resolution of tribute offered as a memorial for William Grawn Milliken, former governor and member of the Senate.

Whereas, The members of the Michigan Legislature were saddened to learn of the passing of William G. Milliken. One of the great leaders in Michigan history, he piloted our state through some of its most difficult years with civility, integrity, and an unerring belief in the ability of people to come together to solve Michigan’s most pressing problems; and

Whereas, A native of Traverse City, William Milliken was born into a family of political and business leaders. The importance of service, generosity, and hard work were instilled in his youth, as well as a love of the outdoors, and would shape his future endeavors. Upon graduation from Traverse City High School in 1940, he attended Yale University, until he chose to bravely serve his country in the U.S. Army Air Corps in World War II. Over his two years of active service, he flew numerous dangerous missions as a waist-gunner on B-24 bombers and was awarded a number of medals, including a Purple Heart and an Air Medal. In 1945, he returned stateside to marry the love of his life, Helen, and complete his bachelor’s degree. He returned to Traverse City and spent the subsequent years running the family business, J.W. Milliken, Inc., serving on the Michigan Waterways Commission, and starting his family, among other endeavors. In 1960, he followed in the footsteps of his father and grandfather and was elected to serve in the Senate for the first time; and

Whereas, As a member of the Senate, William Milliken began to establish his place as a leading moderate voice in Michigan politics. He stood up for civil rights and called for new programs to promote tourism and agriculture, expand community colleges, provide scholarships for high school graduates, address mental illness, and increase local revenue. He worked to preserve scenic beauty on highways by limiting billboards and sponsored legislation to support education through parochial schools. He served as chair of the Education Committee and the Veterans' Affairs Committee, and, in his second term, was selected as majority floor leader. He left the Senate upon his election as Governor George Romney's lieutenant governor in 1964, an office he would hold for the next five years; and

Whereas, William Milliken rose to the position of governor in 1969 following Governor Romney's appointment as United States Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. Over the next 14 years, Governor Milliken would leave his mark on our state, establishing a nationally recognized standard for effective leadership. At a time of great unrest and deep economic crises in Michigan and our nation, his basic decency, kindness, and charm allowed him to build bipartisan alliances and solutions to Michigan's problems. Mild-mannered and thoughtful, he made difficult decisions and pursued policies on the environment, economy, civil rights, education, urban revitalization, and many other issues that he believed would benefit the state of Michigan and all of its citizens in the long run. He left office as Michigan's longest-serving governor; and

Whereas, William Milliken remained an active and respected figure and independent voice in the political landscape for decades after he left office. He served on corporate and nonprofit boards and commissions and remained a strong advocate for the Great Lakes, criminal justice reform, and other issues; and

Whereas, William Milliken's life and legacy of service to our state and its people will not soon be forgotten. An icon of Michigan politics and a true statesman, he will be remembered as a steadfast champion for the common good and the ability of government to serve that good. May he rest in peace; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That we offer this expression of our highest tribute to honor the memory of William Grawn Milliken, a member of the Senate from 1961 to 1964, lieutenant governor and president of the Senate from 1965 to 1969, and governor from 1969 to 1982; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Milliken family as evidence of our lasting esteem for his memory.

The Senate has adopted the concurrent resolution.

The Speaker and the entire membership of the House of Representatives were named co-sponsors of the concurrent resolution.

The question being on the adoption of the concurrent resolution,

A resolution to declare December 4, 2019, as Pallister-Killian Syndrome Awareness Day in the state of Michigan.

Whereas, Pallister-Killian Syndrome (PKS) is a rare genetic disorder resulting from the double duplication of the short arm of chromosome 12, causing children to suffer low muscle tone, seizures, global development delays, hearing and vision loss, and other conditions; and

Whereas, PKS happens randomly at conception and for no known reason. It is thought that there are fewer than 300 diagnosed cases in the world. However, many doctors believe that the incidences of PKS are much higher, possibly as many as 2,000 cases exist in the United States alone. Improper testing methods and lack of awareness of this condition is the main cause for the undiagnosed cases; and

Whereas, It is the goal of this resolution to promote research, education, and raise awareness within the medical community to ensure early diagnoses of children with PKS; and

Whereas, Increased awareness of this condition will help families and caregivers of children with PKS acquire the resources and support they need to manage this disorder; now, therefore, be it
