Senator Jim Runestad of the 15th District offered the following invocation:

I leave you this commandment and it is the greatest commandment: Love one another as I have loved you. Greater love than this has no one than he would lay down his life for his friend. This is a wise directive that we are being told to fulfill as our duties as human beings by leading in service to others.

This is not at all unfamiliar to the men and women of the public safety community. They are great and protecting and caring for their neighbors. They are leaders in the art of being servants. The master of people expressed the ideal of leadership in a republic when he said, Whoever be chief among you, let them be servant. Plainly, let them lead by serving. The true leader deserves to have followers, the true leader has earned recognition, the leader has authority but authority alone is not sufficient to command respect, and to be an effective leader one must have respect.

Respected leaders are those who know how to serve others. Respected leaders see things through the eyes of their followers. Respected leaders put themselves in the shoes of others. They do not say, Get going, but, Let’s go. Respected leaders do not walk behind with a whip but rather in front with a banner. Respected leaders duplicate themselves and others. Respected leaders are builders. Respected leaders are both individuals of thought and of action, dreamers and doers. Respected leaders have a sense of humor—they can laugh at themselves. Respected leaders can be led. Respected leaders are not as interested in having their own way as in finding the best way. Respected leaders keep their eyes on the high goals and strive to make the efforts of their followers contribute to the good of the whole. You are respected leaders, you are true servants. Daily you give your all in the service of your neighbors in this community. For all that you have done, you have our deepest gratitude and we pray that you will be blessed. Amen.

This prayer was delivered by the Rev. Allen J. McNeeley, chaplain of the Detroit Fire Department, on October 14, 2009. I think much of this—not all of it—is applicable to this chamber. The reverend has since passed away.

The President, Lieutenant Governor Gilchrist, led the members of the Senate in recital of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Senator Hertel entered the Senate Chamber.

Pursuant to Joint Rule 20, the full title of the act shall be inserted to read as follows:

“An act to revise and consolidate the statutes relating to the organization and jurisdiction of the courts of this state; the powers and duties of the courts, and of the judges and other officers of the courts; the forms and attributes of civil claims and actions; the time within which civil actions and proceedings may be brought in the courts; pleading, evidence, practice, and procedure in civil and criminal actions and proceedings in the courts; to provide for the powers and duties of certain state governmental officers and entities; to provide remedies and penalties for the violation of certain provisions of this act; to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with or contravening any of the provisions of this act; and to repeal acts and parts of acts,”

Protests

Senators Johnson and Runestad, under their constitutional right of protest (Art. 4, Sec. 18), protested against the passage of House Bill No. 5541.

Senator Johnson moved that the statement she made during the discussion of the amendment she offered to the bill be printed as her reasons for voting “no.”

The motion prevailed.

Senator Johnson’s statement, in which Senator Runestad concurred, is as follows:

I ask my colleagues to support this amendment which would require that the bar exam in Michigan continue to have a component specific to Michigan law. I believe it is not unreasonable if someone wants to practice law in Michigan, that they be asked to demonstrate they have some familiarity with Michigan law. The current test includes a component specific to Michigan law and so I feel to pass this bill without such a requirement would serve to diminish standards in Michigan. I appreciate that the current Board of Law Examiners has expressed their intent to include a specific Michigan component for the bar exam, but the current language in the bill—which states that it is “in its discretion” and that they “may” do this—would allow any future boards to abolish this requirement at any time. I feel this requirement should be set in statute—that is our job—rather than to be totally discretionary and subject to change at any time with no additional legislative review or oversight. Thank you for consideration of this amendment, and Mr. President, should this amendment be defeated, I ask that you allow these comments to serve as my “no” vote explanation and be printed in the Journal.

The following bill was read a third time:

House Bill No. 4994, entitled
