Senate Bill 63 (as introduced 2-9-23)
Sponsor: Senator Dayna Polehanki
Committee: Education

Date Completed: 2-14-23

CONTENT

The bill would amend the Revised School Code to allow a sinking fund tax authorized on or after the bill's effective date to be used for the purchase of real estate for school buildings, for school security improvements, for the acquisition or upgrading of technology, or for school transportation.

The Code allows the board of a school district, if approved by the school electors of the district, to levy a tax on the taxable value of the real and personal property of the school district each year for the purpose of creating a sinking fund.

A sinking fund tax authorized before March 29, 2017, may be used for the purchase of real estate for sites for, and the construction or repair of, school buildings. A sinking fund tax authorized on or after March 29, 2017, also may be used for school security improvements or for the acquisition or upgrading of technology. Under the bill, this provision would apply until the bill's effective date.

In addition, under the bill, for a sinking fund tax authorized on or after the bill's effective date, the sinking fund tax could be used for the purchase of real estate for sites for, and the construction or repair of, school buildings, for school security improvements, for the acquisition or upgrading of technology, or for school transportation.

The bill would take effect 90 days after its enactment.

FISCAL IMPACT

The bill would have no fiscal impact on the State and a positive impact on local school districts. By allowing districts to use a sinking fund tax for school transportation, the bill would enable districts to offset general fund dollars that presently go toward school transportation. School districts then could use their freed-up general fund dollars for other programs and services in their districts. Because of local discretion in the use of sinking fund taxes, it is not possible to savings estimate an average amount of general fund offset throughout the State.
